Itching Skin, Eczema, Rashes & Piles

Germolene Instantly Allays Itching, Heat, and Irritation, and Heals Like a Charm.

The first touch of Germolene allays the intense itching of eczema and similar skin maladies. The sufferer gets relief at once; relief, too, that lasts. Germolene not only soothes but cleanses from all wound poisons and impurities, while its healing effect is altogether astonishing. Unlike other preparations Germolene is planned on the great Aseptic system of treatment, which has superseded the older antiseptic system in medical practice. This system means scientific cleanliness, the exclusion of germ life, and free action for the natural healing processes.

The Salve That Soothes at a Touch.

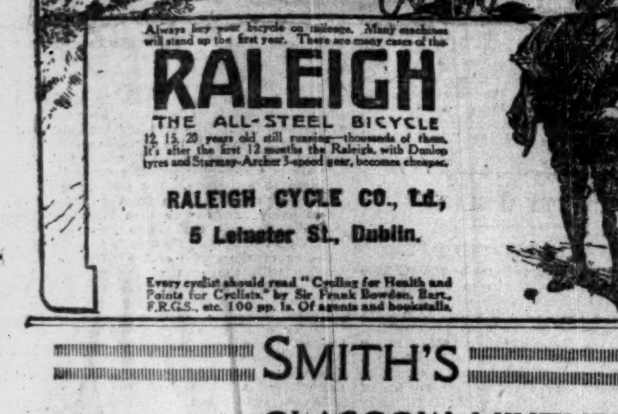

One of the active principles in Germolene is the extract of a North American plant, long used by the native races as a remedy for snake bite and poisoned wounds, and combined with this are healing principles of proved efficacy.

Germolene is the proved home remedy for

ROWING.

THE AMERICAN EIGHT FOR HENLEY.

(PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN SPECIAL.)

BOSTON, MAY 29.

Harvard University will not defend its possession of the Grand Challenge Cup, won at the Henley Regatta of 1914, but a Harvard crew rowing under the colours of the Union Boat Club of this city is training for an attempt to keep the trophy in this country. All indications now are that this crew will be America's only representatives at this year's classic English Regatta, except for possible entries in individual and doubles events. To comply with the Henley conditions, requiring that no professional coaching for candidate crews be employed for three months prior to the race, the direction of the crew's preparation has been placed in the hands of R. F. Herrick, Chairman of the Harvard Graduate Rowing Committee. Mr. Herrick was the coach of the Harvard crew which won at Henley in 1914. In material for the eight he has 18 oarsmen of college experience, all but one of whom are former Harvard athletes. The prospective Henley crew as now seated is exclusively a Harvard graduate combination. Its substitutes, forming a second eight, include Arthur Pew, who rowed bow in the winning Navy eight of last year.

SWIMMING.

SANDYCOVE S.C.

This club opened their season's programme at Blackrock Baths yesterday with a couple of events. Details:—

50 Yards Handicap—James Molloy (6), 1; J. Egan (5), 2; L. Egan (10), 3. Also competed:—J. Tallon (scr.), T. Molloy (2), C. R. Walsh (5), C. Fagan (5), E. Kennedy (5), J. Kennedy (6), K. Schorman (9), L. Toser (10), W. Byrne (10), W. Fitzhugh (11), W. Blunden (11), P. J. O'Neill (12), C. McGuinness (12), R. McLoughlin (14). Won by a touch; same between second and third.

100 Yards Novices' (Scratch)—J. Allen, 1; J. Fitzgerald, 2; P. Stuart, 3. Also competed:—F. Kavanagh, J. Clarke, F. Hartnett. Won easily. Time, 83 secs.

CROQUET.

CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT AT CARRICKMINES.

The annual championship tournament was commenced on the lawns of the Carrickmines Croquet and Lawn Tennis Club yesterday. The entries showed a sad falling off from other years. None of the cracks from England put in an appearance; and of the first-class Irish players several were missing. C. L. O'Callaghan, P. D. Mathews, and Cyril Corbally were absentees. There were but eight entries in all for the gentlemen's event, and but five for the ladies'. Of the men, J. A. McMordie, the champion of last year, was in the best of form, having kept up his practice with much success during the winter in the South of France. He defeated H. Corbally rather easily in the first round. Other winners in this round were—S. A. W. Waters, who defeated W. H. Wilson; Major Lister beat F. Workman, and W. F. Pim beat F. Reid. There is a good entry for the handicap singles, and also for the "Victory Cup," presented by Major Lister, and, with favourable weather, some good croquet may be expected during the week.

SPORTING NEWS.

EPSOM MEETING YESTERDAY.

THE OPENING DAY.
THE KING PRESENT.

In the presence of His Majesty the King the great carnival of racing at Epsom commenced upon the classic Surrey Downs yesterday under ideal conditions. Rain certainly threatened occasionally, but nothing fell to interfere with the comfort of an exceedingly large crowd. The going was not nearly so hard as had been expected, some of the old stagers declaring that the turf seldom has answered to the foot so readily. His Majesty the King motored down, and witnessed nearly all the races from the Royal box. The Craven Stakes opened the proceedings, and on the card Arion was marked with 1st. less weight than permissible. Of course, there was a correction on the board, but Lord Jersey's horse made light of his poundage, and won quite comfortably from Roideur and Vertigo, the hot-pot favourite, Palmella, finishing fourth. After winning the Wallington Plate off the 100 to 8 mark Lord Sefton allowed Couplet, a well-bred son of Chaucer, to change hands for 1,200 guineas, and then the evergreen Jameson popped up again, to beat the strongly fancied Malton horse, C.P., in the Ashstead Selling Plate. Mr. Blane whose horses are in the charge of Renwick, purchased Jameson for 600 guineas. The ancient son of King James will probably be found useful in the North. The Woodcote Stakes attracted a nice looking field of a dozen two-year-olds. Among these winning form was represented by Napolyon, whose only outing was in the Brocklesby Stakes at Lincoln, Canterbury Lamb and Highlander, the latter of whom put up such an impressive performance when beating so decisively White Fang, Backbiter, and others at Windsor. Mr. J. B. Joel however, introduced one of his unknown quantities in Humourist, a well-named chestnut colt by Polymelus out of Jest. Humourist was made a hot favourite, and, running green in the hands of Donoghue, he just beat Highlander, who took a lot out of himself through being fractious at the post. Tagrag upset a lot of calculations in the Egmont Plate, in which the strongly fancied Flower Day faded away a furlong from home; and in a great race for the Epsom Plate Patlander just beat Golly Eyes. The locally trained Crest, carrying an easy weight, easily won the Norbury Plate. Details:—

THE DERBY.

PROSPECTS OF TO-DAY'S GREAT RACE.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM.)

EPSOM, TUESDAY NIGHT.

Despite the opinions expressed in the lay London Press, the Epsom Meeting will certainly not be the phenomenal success which they have never ceased to urge, probably for ulterior motives. The proceedings were very tame to-day, but matters will liven up to-morrow, when a field of about two and twenty for the Derby is expected. Appended is a revised list of the

PROBABLE STARTERS AND JOCKEYS.

Lord Zetland's b. c. DYNAMO, by Turbine—Amore, 9-0 ...H. Robbins
Sir H. Buchanan's gr. c. SARCHEDON, by The Tetrarch—Perfect Peach, 9-0...F. O'Neill

Mr. A. Sadler's (jun.) JOSKIN, by Fairy King—Whimsey, 9-0 ...Buckley
Sir A. Bailey's b. c. ALL PRINCE, by Prince Palatine—All Green, 9-0 ...F. Fox
Lord Anglesey's b. c. FIREWORK, by Prince Palatine—Falling Star, 9-0 ...R. Wheatley

Instead of the race being of the intensely absorbing interest which we have been urged to believe, not a wager of the least importance upon the result was traceable on the course to-day. At least a dozen of the horses included in the above list would be more at home in a handicap or a good-class selling race. But there it is, and we must accept the situation as it is presented. It may be found that previous suggestions favourable to the prospects of Tetratema, Allenby, Archaic, and Sarchedon were not misplaced, although I am warned that Abbots Trace will play a bigger part in the drama than is generally anticipated; but I must repeat a winter fancy for and expect Sarchedon or Allenby to be his nearest attendant home. Archaic will probably be at his best at the back-end. Selections for the minor races:—

Caterham Plate—Shandon Bells.
Juvenile Plate—Merry Kathleen.
Ranmore Plate—Deccan or Ebchester.
Stewards' Handicap—Rapiere.
Town Plate—Abdicate or Floreal.

FORM OF THE DERBY HORSES.

BOXING.

BOXING IN AUSTRALIA.
A WELSH SUCCESS.

(FOREIGN SPECIAL.)

MELBOURNE, TUESDAY.

In a twenty-round boxing contest last night Llew Robert (Wales) easily defeated Owen Cairns (Queensland) on points. The Welshman was altogether too fast for his opponent.

BALLAGHADEREEN MEETING—YESTERDAY.

Were it not for the fact that there was a walk-over for the Subscribers' Plate, the meeting at Ballaghaderreen was quite good. In the other races fields were of fair strength, and the sport was much enjoyed by a big crowd of country people. Good Points was somewhat unlucky in the Visitors' Plate, as twice when he seemed like passing Village Gossip he stumbled, and ultimately only suffered defeat by a length. Daroge ran in disappointing style in the Ladies' Plate, and the race fell an easy prey to East Mayo, who had the issue safe a long way from home. Garrymore won the Ballaghaderreen Plate cleverly from Silvo, who was running on at the finish. Yours Only was not so well fancied as either Mawgoory or Shallogans for the Commercial Plate, but easily beat the pair. Mawgoory never looked like scoring, and Shallogans, after flattering half a mile from home, was out-stayed by the other. The Lady Bagnal filly was indulged with a walk-over for the Subscribers' Plate, and in the Stand Plate Catchim supplemented his Sligo success, and subsequently survived an objection for bumping and boring. Details:—

2.0—VISITORS' HANDICAP of 50 sovs. A flat race. 1¼ m.

Mr. T. Gillian's Mawgoory a, 10-5 T. Carbery 0
(Winner trained by Ussher.)
Betting—6 to 4 agst. Mawgoory, 2 to 1 Shallogans, 5 to 2 YOURS ONLY, 33 to 1 each Blue Ribbon and St. Bernard.
St. Bernard led from Yours Only, Shallogans, and Mawgoory for half-way, when Yours Only and Shallogans drew clear away, the former winning a good race by two lengths; a bad third. St. Bernard was fourth. Mawgoory did not complete the course.

4.10—SUBSCRIBERS' HANDICAP of 50 sovs. Second 2 sovs. A flat race. 1 m. 2 f. 50 yds.
Mr. P. D. Coen's LADY BAGNAL F., by Grebe, 4, 10-12 ...James Canty w.o.

4.40—STAND STEEPLECHASE of 40 sovs. Second 1 sov. Weight-for-age, etc. 3 m.

GOLF.

IRISH LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.
FIRST AND SECOND ROUNDS.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

PORTRUSH, TUESDAY.

The opening stages of the Irish Ladies' Championship to-day were favoured by fine weather, but the competitors had to contend with a strong wind, which was in evidence all day. The entry was nothing like as representative as it was last year at Portmarnock, and the proceedings to-day were very dull and uneventful. Indeed, the golf all round was of a rather moderate standard—so much so, in fact, that Miss Jackson seems assured of her fourth victory in the championship.

The best of the four morning matches was that between Miss Marion Alexander, who was beaten in last year's final by Miss Jackson, and Mrs. J. Hulton, but it was rather poor golf which each played. In fact, it was not until the 12th hole that Miss Alexander got on to her game. Up to then she had been driving badly and playing her other shots rather carelessly, while her opponent's golf was no better. The high wind, no doubt, was disconcerting, but it was not strong enough to account for such moderate golf. It was, however, a very even match up to the 14th. To that point there was never more than a hole between them. Twice Mrs. Hulton went into the lead, at the 3rd and the 7th, but she never retained it for more than a hole, and when the turn was reached Miss Alexander was one up. The match proceeded on even lines to the 12th, which was Miss Alexander's best hole. Here she was on in two excellent shots to take the lead in 3 to 4, and from that onward she had the match well in hands, and finally won by 3 and 2.

Mrs. Harry Jackson had an easy journey in her match with Miss Hezlet. The latter has not been playing much golf of late, and was quite out of touch with her clubs. Mrs. Jackson, on the other hand, made but few mistakes, and, turning 6 up, she brought the affair to a close on the 14th, when she won by 5 and 4.

The wind had not abated when the second round commenced, but it was not blowing quite so strongly. Miss Janet Jackson, the holder, was opposed to Miss Jean Alexander, who has not had the best of luck in the draws this year, having been paired with Miss Cecil Leitch in the Open Championship at Newcastle. On the way out the golf was distinctly moderate, and it took Miss Jackson a long time to get on to her game. She, however, turned 4 up, Miss Alexander having more than her share of bunker trouble. After the 10th and 11th had been halved Miss Jackson played in something like her best form, and was an easy winner at the 15th. The young Rosslare lady, Miss Armstrong, had a hard match with Mrs. Bullock, who brought her to the 17th green. Miss Armstrong was not playing as good golf as last year at Portmarnock, when she got into the semi-final round, and but for laying her opponent stymies on the 2nd, 6th, and 8th greens the result might have been different. As it was the match was square at the turn. Mrs. Bullock, who played very steadily, became one up at the 11th, but, badly bunkered going to the 12th, she picked up. Miss Armstrong won the next two, and the 15th being halved, she became dormy 3; but she played the 16th very badly, losing it in 8 to 5. A half at the seventeenth, however, gave her the match by 2 and 1.

Mrs. Harry Jackson put up a good fight against Miss M. Alexander in the outward journey. She started well by winning the first two holes, but the Fortwilliam lady squared at the fifth, and became 1 up at the next. It was very even to the turn, where Miss Alexander led by 1 hole, but after that Miss Alexander was always playing the better golf, and her rival playing the thirteenth and fourteenth rather badly was beaten by 4 and 2. Mrs. Carter, the wife of Captain Carter, was 2 up on Mrs. Cahill at the turn, but the latter, who approached and putted well, had levelled up matters at the eleventh. Thereafter it was a capital match, Mrs. Carter winning by 2 up. Miss Stella Stewart had a very easy victory over Mrs. MacCay, bringing the match to a close at the fourteenth, after being 6 up at the ninth, but the easiest win of the day was Mrs. Cramsie's 8 and 6 victory over Miss Hoy, who did not win a single hole. Mrs. Madill had two walks-over. Details:—

BIG PROFESSIONAL TOURNAMENT.

The big professional meeting at Lossiemouth opened yesterday, when most of the prominent players took part in four-ball matches of an international character. These were not in the nature of serious international golf, although they provided some interesting exhibitions. It was the original intention that yesterday would be devoted to the qualifying competition for the £550 competition, but it was afterwards decided that no qualifying competition should be played, and these matches were therefore arranged. The most interesting of the games were those in which E. Ray and J. H. Taylor were in opposition to Alec Herd and Tom Fernie, and Harry Vardon and Abe Mitchell opposed James Braid and George Duncan. In the morning Ray played some remarkable golf, and was largely for his side's lead of 5 holes on the first round, which enabled them to win by 4 and 2. Vardon and Mitchell early secured a lead from their Scottish opponents, but in the afternoon Braid and Duncan were able to clear this off and win their match by 3 and 2.

Arnaud Massy and Jean Gassiat, the two Frenchmen, played on the Scottish side, and after a close match were defeated by James Sherlock and Tom Williamson by 3 and 1. Peter Rainford and T. Renouf were another pair who contested a match for the English side, and they were defeated by J. M'Dowell and A. Gow by 3 and 2.

Angel de la Torre, the young Spanish champion, played on the English side with Claude Gray, and this pair also won their match. The majority of the matches went to England, the visiting side scoring seven wins against five by Scotland, while one match finished all square.

AMERICAN PLAYERS IN LONDON.

Several of the American entrants for the British Amateur Championship, who only arrived in England on the previous day, opened their active golf campaign by practice rounds over Walton Heath course, Surrey, yesterday. In spite of their journey some of the players, especially Mr. Robert Gardner and Mr. Nelson Whitney, played a most convincing game. The latter player hits a long ball and keeps a fine line, while his faculty for recovering from trouble is really remarkable. Mr. Gardner's game was chiefly conspicuous for the length of his driving, but quite the feature of his play was his confidence and success on the green. Mr. Whitney had a remarkable score of 74 in a practice round in the morning. Mr. Gardner's card was quite sound, 77 for his first round.

In the afternoon Mr. Gardner partnered Mr. Maxwell (New York) in a four-ball match against Mr. Whitney and a scratch member of the Walton Heath Club, Mr. Pearson. Mr. Gardner's golf was really magnificent, and he was the most conspicuous of the four players. Such was the length of Mr. Gardner's drives that at the 14th hole, which measures 353 yards, he was only a few

Can't beat "TIZ" when Feet Hurt

"Ah! Nothing like TIZ for sore, tired, puffed-up, perspiring feet, corns or chilblains."

"I can stand all day in complete comfort after using TIZ."

Use TIZ, and never suffer with tender, blistered, swollen, tired feet. TIZ, and only TIZ, takes the pain and soreness out of corns, hard skin, chilblains, bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a TIZ bath you just feel the happiness soaking in. TIZ instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore, inflamed, aching feet.

"Before using TIZ," writes Mr. F. Salmon, of Westwood Cottage, March, Cambs., "I was a great sufferer with my feet. One box of TIZ made me feel like a new man."

Get a 1/3 box of TIZ at any chemist's or stores. Get instant foot relief.

Refuse all substitutes. Look for "TIZ" on the box and W. L. DODGE, Ltd., 27, Charterhouse Square, E.C.1.

A Matin telegram from Warsaw states that the Polish Diet has decided to break off diplomatic relations with Czecho-Slovakia, and demand the withdrawal of Czecho-Slovak workmen in the district, where a plebiscite is to be taken. The Polish Plenipotentiary says he is astounded at this information, which is completely contrary to the telegram he received from Warsaw.

The Irish Times.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1920.

In an Encyclical just issued at Rome the Pope urges the duty of forgiveness, and appeals to nations to reduce, if not eliminate, military expenditure in order to prevent the danger of further wars.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Illingworth said that it was hoped to introduce the Bill for increasing postal rates next week.

Mr. Baldwin, in the House of Commons yesterday, stated that the decision of the Cabinet in regard to the taxation of war wealth would be announced in the course of a few days.

In Committee on the Naval Estimates the House of Commons yesterday agreed to several votes, the most important of them being one that makes provision for oil fuel dépôts.

Armed men entered the military guardroom at King's Inns, Dublin, yesterday. Having disarmed the sentry and surprised the guard, they carried away in motor cars thirteen rifles, five hundred rounds of ammunition, a machine gun, thirteen bayonets, and other equipment.

Fully-armed policemen and soldiers continue to patrol the streets of Kilmallock. Yesterday everything that could be salved from the ruined police barrack was taken away by the military.

The Coroner's jury at Limerick yesterday that investigated the death of James Saunders, who was shot in the streets, found that the bullet was fired by the police, and that they considered it murder.

Hook Lighthouse was raided on Monday night, and rockets and detonators were stolen.

The County Council elections for Sligo and Leitrim have resulted in the total return of Sinn Feiners.

At Epsom Meeting yesterday Mr. J. B. Joel's Humorist won the Woodcote Stakes.

At the College Park yesterday Dublin University defeated Derbyshire by six wickets.

In London yesterday the Stock Markets were very quiet, the solitary exception being the Oil section, which had an afternoon boom to itself. Money was in comfortable supply at 5¼-½ per cent., and the Discount market was less reserved. In Dublin Dunlops were strong and Home Rails weak.

The Dublin Raid.

The raid on the King's Inns is an instructive foot-note to Irish Labour's demand for the withdrawal of the "Army of Occupation." While the railwaymen refuse to handle munitions for the troops, the flying columns of the Republic continue to handle them with despatch and dexterity whenever they can catch a British soldier unawares. The raid was committed in the Irish capital, in the middle of the afternoon, at a public office of the first importance. Two parties of young men, numbering about one hundred in all, reached the King's Inns by different routes, "held up" a sentry, and seem to have taken an armed guard of some ten soldiers completely by surprise. They collected thirteen rifles with bayonets, a machine gun, five hundred rounds of cartridges, and other munitions of war, which were removed in two motor cars. The raiders, who were undisguised, departed calmly through a cheering crowd, and no arrests have been made. The moral of this affair may be commended to the English and Irish Governments. In the first place, it was an act of war. The British Government has been content hitherto to oppose to armed revolution the splendid, but inadequate, heroism of the Irish police. It has played solemnly with the notion that its absurd Home Rule Bill would turn the lion of revolt into a turtle-dove. The Republicans have given it no excuse for such folly. They have declared, with perfect candour, their intention to haul down the British flag in Ireland; and, if this latest act of war has astonished Downing street, it has astonished no intelligent student of Irish affairs. In the next place, yesterday's raid was daring and well-conceived. It proves that the Republican movement is highly organised, is directed by clever brains, has large resources, and commands human material which lacks neither skill nor coolness. This "cutting out" expedition in the heart of Dublin was not made without exact knowledge and elaborate preparation. Finally, throughout the greater part of Ireland the Republican forces can depend, if not on the actual connivance, at least on the terrified acquiescence, of the people. Confidence in the sanctions of British law and order vanished long ago, and whole countrysides now bring their rights and wrongs to the courts of Sinn Fein. Yesterday's raid will not be wholly injurious if it compels the British Government and the British nation to recognise these facts. The Government is faced with a task which, by long neglect, has become very difficult and very urgent—the task of saving Ireland for the British Crown. Its first business should be the "scrapping" of all its absurd illusions about the Home Rule Bill, and of the pretence that, if you call war "disorder," it ceases to be war. The Republican movement, though the most formidable and best organised factor in Irish life to-day, is not the sole, or even the chief, factor. Its ideals are impossible, and its methods disastrous to Irish peace and prosperity. The best interests not only of the Empire, but of Ireland, demand that the Crown's authority shall be re-established with the least possible delay, that security shall be restored to life and labour, and that the tyranny of outrage shall be dethroned. Matters have come to such a pass that the effective task of Irish government is now in military hands. The British people have every right to blame their Ministers for this state of things, but, for the time being, they cannot repair it. The need of an "Army of Occupation" implies the failure of law, but its work of protection and vigilance is a condition precedent to the restoration of law. That will be, as we hope and believe, British Labour's answer to the demand for the withdrawal of the troops from Ireland.

The German Elections.

The German elections will be held next Sunday, and on their issue depend many matters of world concern. The present German Government is discredited. The so-called Majority Socialists have been in power since the Armistice. They accepted office with unbounded optimism, and the German people never doubted that they would succeed in the reconstruction of the Fatherland. They promised great things, and have done nothing. They failed to secure modifications in the Peace Treaty, to protect the country from civil strife, and to revive Germany's shattered industry. Doubtless, they were the victims of circumstances. No other Government could have succeeded where they failed; but, naturally, they have been blamed by everybody, and all the sorrows of Germany have been laid at their door. The reign of the Majority Socialists is at an end, and nobody will shed many tears at their passing. Even during the war their policy was always vacillating and shifting, and since the Armistice they have not changed. Assailed from Left and Right, they yielded first to one side and then to the other. One moment they were Junkers, the next disciples of Karl Marx. In consequence of this continuous change of front Germany suffered. Her great need was a firm and resolute Government, determined, above all things, to make the best of a bad bargain and to pursue a consistent policy of economic and financial reform. She needed a strong man, a Bismarck or a Bulow, but no such man was to be found. There is hardly any doubt that the elections will result in the virtual annihilation of the Majority Socialist Party. In the elections for the Saxe-Coburg Diet it did not secure a single seat, whereas, out of fourteen members returned, nine were Independent Socialists.

Everything points to a fierce struggle between the extreme Right and the extreme Left. Elections were held recently in Brunswick and in Danzig, and in both places the Independent Socialists made sweeping gains at the expense of the majority group, while the Nationalist Parties made equally sweeping gains at the expense of the Democrats. The moderate parties are in disfavour in Germany. Everybody fears that during the present week either the Junkers or the Bolsheviks will try to anticipate the results of the elections by a Putsch. The Junkers have been extremely active of late. Herr Hugo Stinnes—the Ballin of Republican Germany—has been buying up newspapers throughout the country in order to create a Stimmung among the people in favour of a Pan-German policy. The Pan-Germans are frankly determined to restore the monarchy, and large sections of public opinion doubt whether a restoration could be any worse than the present régime. On the other hand, the Independent Socialists are seeking salvation in Bolshevism. They command a large following in Prussia, especially in the industrial regions of Westphalia, and their remarkable successes in Saxe-Coburg indicate that their forces are steadily increasing. They and the Junkers are the only parties in Germany which know what they want. The probability is that, after the elections, the predominant group will be either definitely Right or definitely Left in its composition. Whatever happens, German politics are likely to undergo a radical change within the next week, and in many respects the fate of the Treaty of Versailles will be decided on Sunday.

The outstanding feature of the Treaty is the indemnity. So far Germany has paid nothing, and she has offered to pay nothing. A long controversy has been in progress concerning the sum which she should be asked to contribute to the Allies; and, while the French demand ten milliards of pounds, and Professor Keynes declares that Germany can pay only two, the general opinion seems to be that the sum of five milliards should be definitely fixed. To settle the indemnity question the Spa Conference has been arranged. This conference is to take place after the German elections, and will be attended by German delegates from the new Government. Who are these delegates likely to be? If they are Junkers, the Allies know what to expect. If they are Bolsheviks, they may expect nothing at all. In either case the Germans probably will protest that they accept no responsibility for the signatures of the Majority Socialists, who signed the Treaty of Peace. The Allies would be wise, therefore, to prepare their plans in advance for Spa. They should first determine among themselves how much they intend Germany to pay. The sum should be neither beyond Germany's capacity nor yet too small. It should be a reasonable amount, and should be fixed without delay. When the sum has been determined steps should be taken to ensure its payment by the Germans. If the meeting at Spa becomes a mere debate, it will serve no good end. It is already high time that the making of peace should be finished. Eighteen months have passed since the Armistice, and, so far as the Allies' relations with Germany are concerned, virtually no progress has been made. The last word should be spoken at Spa. Whether the German people vote for Junkers or Bolsheviks they must not be permitted to evade their just obligations, and the Allies must be ready not only to present their bill, but also to compel its settlement.

A "Dry" Scotland.

Will Scotland "go dry"? The deferred clauses of the Scottish Temperance Act of 1913, which came into force yesterday, give the people the power of local veto; and a stern struggle is promised between the temperance party and the licensed trade. The contest will be continued until November, when a poll of the electors probably will be taken in the various areas into which the country has been divided. Before a poll can be held in any district ten per cent. of the electors must sign a requisition to the local authority in favour of it. There can be little doubt that the "drys" will be able to secure the necessary number of signatures in every area. Three resolutions will be submitted to the electors—(1) To let matters remain as they are at present; (2) a reduction of the number of retail licences by 25 per cent.; (3) the abolition of all licences except those attached to certain hotels and restaurants. Before a "no licence" resolution can be carried in any area 55 per cent. of the votes recorded and 35 per cent. of the electors on the register must be in favour of it. In the event of the proposal's defeat, however, the votes cast for it will not be lost, for they will be added to those in favour of a reduction of licences. The "drys," therefore, will have a double vote. Both sides are confident of victory, but we shall be surprised if many areas decide to take the extreme course advocated by the temperance party. The Scots are a cautious race, and are not likely to give up whiskey in favour of sugar-candy at the first invitation.

American Tourists.

During the last few months the passport offices in New York have been working at high pressure. Thousands of persons want to visit Europe this summer. Most of them contemplate a tour of the United Kingdom and a trip to the battlefields of France and Flanders. It is announced that every steamer which will leave American and Canadian ports during the next three months is already assured of her full complement of passengers, and that no more berths can be booked. A conservative estimate places the number of intending tourists who will be compelled to remain on the other side of the Atlantic at 100,000. The average amount spent by an American on a tour in the United Kingdom is about £200; therefore, the scarcity of Transatlantic tonnage will mean a direct loss of £20,000,000 to these islands. Even as matters stand, however, the tourist traffic will be exceptionally heavy. The state of Ireland, unfortunately, is certain to deter many tourists from visiting our shores. Many will be afraid to cross the Irish Sea when they are in England, and those who are not afraid will scarcely be attracted by the prospect of having to handle their own luggage.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

IRISH UNIONISTS AND PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

Irish Unionist members of Parliament decided yesterday to put down amendments to the Home Rule Bill, striking out the provision for applying the principle of proportional representation to the future Parliamentary elections in Ireland.

AN AUTUMN SESSION PROBABLE.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

The Central News Political Correspondent writes:—The Parliamentary term which opened yesterday is likely to be lengthy. It may be slightly curtailed by the fact that an autumn session now seems to be inevitable, but, with Supply and the important legislative proposals now before the House of Commons, an adjournment earlier than the middle of August can scarcely be anticipated.

The progress of the Home Rule Bill, by reason of the unexpected withdrawal of all formal and organised opposition, has been very rapid, and the Government expect to get it passed into law well ahead of programme time.

NEW ARCHBISHOP OF WALES.

Dr. Edwards, the new Archbishop of Wales, was enthroned yesterday in the Cathedral Church of St. Asaph. The King and Queen and the Prince of Wales were represented by Prince Arthur of Connaught. The Archbishops of Canterbury, York, and Dublin, and the Bishop of London, and Mr. Lloyd George were among those present.

Speaking after the enthronement, Mr. Lloyd George said that that day had seen the end of an old feud, which had embittered Welsh life for generations. It was the end, not by victory, but by appeasement, and concord was always better than conquest. He believed that the Church in Wales would be now better equipped than ever to take its share in combating materialism and indifference.

Earlier in the day the Premier received Holy Communion in the Cathedral.

The Prime Minister reached London on his return from Wales about 8 o'clock last evening.

ORDER OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The following appointments to the Order of the British Empire were gazetted last night:—

To be Dame Grand Cross—Annie Lady de Sausmarez, President of the British Women's Work Association in China.

To be Dame Commander—Catherine Leslie Lady Wingate, President of the Cairo and Alexandria Red Cross Committee, and of the Empire Nurses' Red Cross Clubs in Cairo and Alexandria.

To be Knights Commanders—Harry Percival Densham, Esq., Chairman of United Tanners' Federation; Drummond Fraser, Esq., for valuable services in connection with the war savings movement; John O'Connor, Esq., M.D., head of the British Hospital in Buenos Ayres; Arthur Riteon, Esq., J.P., Adviser on Shipping Matters to the Naval Staff, 1917-1919.

A number of appointments as Commanders, Officers, and Members are also announced.

POLICE PENSIONS.

The Dublin Executive Committee of the Royal Irish Constabulary and Dublin Metropolitan Police pensioners have addressed a circular to each member of the House of Commons, in which, having drawn attention to Mr. Bonar Law's recent statement in the House of Commons with regard to the contemplated measure of relief for pensioners, they suggest that, so far as Irish police pensioners are concerned, the age limit of sixty years and upwards should be removed. They also ask for the removal of the restrictions in relation to the earned and unearned means (including pension) of the pensioner from £150 to £250, and the restoration of all pre-war pensions, and the pensions of those who retired prior to April 1st, 1919, to their equivalent purchasing pre-war value.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—Small secondary disturbances will cause occasional drizzle locally over the northern half of the Kingdom, but the weather will be mainly fair to cloudy.

Ireland, N.W. and N.E.—Light or moderate westerly winds, mainly cloudy, clouds rather low, occasional drizzle locally, visibility indifferent to fair, temperature about normal.

S.E. to S.W.—Light westerly winds, mainly cloudy but bright intervals, clouds rather low, visibility fair, apart from some fog on the coast; temperature about normal.

ARTILLERY FOR THE CURRAGH.

A company of officers and men of the Royal Field Artillery, with sixty-pounder guns, arrived at Amiens street Station yesterday morning on a special train from Belfast. The ordnance was unloaded by the soldiers, and driven through Dublin, en route to the Curragh.

The engine driver of the train should have been relieved at Dundalk, but no other man could be found to take his place, so he drove right through to Amiens street.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
TUESDAY NIGHT.

I understand that Sir H. Greenwood, from his study of the situation in Ireland upon the spot, while realising that it is extremely grave, is yet hopeful that the steps being taken to deal with it will ere long produce a decidedly improved state of things. The policy to which he is pledged will neglect no reasonable means of conciliation, but, at the same time, it involves resolute treatment of evil-doers, and determined and, if necessary, increasing measures for the suppression of the terror, and the restoration of peace and order. Incidentally, it may be noted, Sir Hamar and his colleagues will not allow any labour troubles on the railways or at the ports to interfere with the conveyance of supplies, whether of munitions or otherwise, to the forces of the Crown. It is probable that the right hon. gentleman will be returning to Ireland, though, perhaps, not immediately, in order again to be near the scene of action, in respect both of ameliorative and order-restoring measures. Among the former, I believe, Sir Hamar includes great improvement in the pay, etc., of the elementary and secondary school teachers. This is provided for in the Irish Education Bill, but the Bill has been much delayed, and the Chief Secretary is looking for an alternative means of meeting the case. Something on this subject will soon be heard from him.

Mr. W. Long, who is in charge of the Home Rule Bill, has not been able to make much progress during the recess with his examination of the problem raised by his acceptance of the proposal of two-Chamber Parliaments instead of one-Chamber Parliaments, as proposed by the Bill. He has to ascertain what form of Second Chamber will prove most acceptable, and what the numbers, constitution, and mode of election should be. As the matter cannot be settled without a good deal of investigation and consultation, it is possible that the Government proposals on the subject may not be available, as Mr. Long had hoped, for the report stage of the Bill in the House of Commons. In that case they will be brought forward in the House of Lords.

By the way, Mr. Long is to receive on Friday next a deputation from the Dublin Chamber of Commerce asking for a modification of the financial scheme in the Bill, and urging also that there shall be only one judiciary for the whole of Ireland, instead of one each for the North and South. The Belfast Chamber of Commerce has already recommended that Ireland's contribution for Imperial services shall not be eighteen millions annually, arranged for by the Bill, but only five millions.

Mr Fisher was severely cross-questioned to-day regarding the Government's offer of a site in Bloomsbury for the University of London. He admitted that at an earlier period the Senate had expressed a preference for the Foundling Hospital Grounds, but maintained that in present circumstances the land purchased from the Duke of Bedford was more suitable. Sir J. D. Rees's inquiry whether, at this time, it was desirable to spend a vast sum on rehousing the University evoked a good many approving cheers, but Mr. Fisher explained that the acceptance of the Government's offer would facilitate the relief of many other buildings throughout London, notably the Imperial Institute.

Mr. Bridgeman was asked whether the values of the commodities imported during the first four months of this year indicated a fall in prices. He could not say that they did, but, in subsequent conversation in the Lobby, he told me that the impression at the Board of Trade was that a fall was coming.

The Postmaster-General stated that the Bill for increasing postal rates would be introduced next week. "Then why are we paying twopence to-day?" asked Mr. Hogge. Mr. Illingworth explained that legislation was not necessary for an increase in the penny post; it could be done by warrant. "But this is a three-half-penny post," rejoined Mr. Hogge.

The Chief Secretary, introduced by Lord Edmund Talbot and Mr. Dudley Ward, took his seat amid general cheers. The right hon. gentleman was looking very well after his recent experiences, and was warmly greeted afterwards by his many friends in the Lobby.

Then the House resumed the consideration of the Navy Estimates, under the guidance of the new Financial Secretary of the Admiralty, Sir James Craig. The discussion of the new scheme for the reserves had again to be postponed, however, as the details of the system are not finally settled.

The Austrian children who recently arrived from Vienna to be fed after their famine experience are making a rapid recovery after their sufferings. I saw a number of them yesterday playing happily and noisily round the block of houses of what was once Richborough, the great "mystery" port. They looked well and rosy, and evidently fear nothing, for they shouted and waved their hands to passers-by in the most friendly manner. The children, who have been brought over under the auspices of the Save the Children Fund, are to stay at Richborough for three weeks before being drafted to other towns.

During the war the great "mystery" port of Richborough was one of the finest achievements of the Royal Engineers. The marvellous work done through its agency has been revealed to a wondering public, but now the glory of the great camp dockyard and railway dépôt have departed. Everything is being got ready for sale or removal, and it is probable that considerable sums will accrue from the realisation of the contents of many miles of ground. It is curious to see the place where one had seen thousands of soldiers at work like bees now in the hands of a few score of men wearing, in many cases, khaki, but obviously out of the Army, judged by their civilian head-dress. Possibly part of the great port will remain with its wonderful cranes and appliances, but all the remainder of the place is to be dismantled.

Sir William Davison has given notice of the following question for Thursday:—To ask the Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland why no assistance was given to the ten gallant policemen at Kilmallock, Co. Limerick, who defended their barracks for upwards of five hours, after two of their number had been killed and the west wing of the barracks had been destroyed by fire, against a hostile force numbering at least 200 men; and whether any system of military patrols, whether by aeroplane or otherwise, is in force in Southern Ireland, or whether the police and any surviving loyalists in country districts have been abandoned by the Government to their fate; and whether the Government will now proclaim martial law, seeing that the whole of the South and West of Ireland are in open rebellion, and the ordinary law has ceased to operate for many months.

THE NEW POSTAL RATES.

The new postal rate of 2d. as a minimum for letters came into operation yesterday, but apparently as far as the Dublin post-offices were concerned there was no appreciable diminution in the extent of the ordinary collection of letters. The difficulty, which arose when the 1½d. postage was introduced, of making the public familiar with the new rates was noticeable yesterday, when a large percentage of letters posted by private individuals only carried 1½d. stamps. In a few days, however, the new rates will be generally recognised.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

The company engaged to present "The Purple Mask" at the Gaiety Theatre on Monday night having been unable to reach Dublin in time for the performance owing to difficulties experienced in course of transport, the play had, in consequence, to be postponed. The company arrived in Dublin last evening, and the performance will take place this evening at the usual hour.

THE NATIONAL UNIONIST ASSOCIATION.

IRISH QUESTION AT BIRMINGHAM CONFERENCE.

The forty-eighth annual Conference of the National Unionist Association will be held at Birmingham on June 9th, 10th, and 11th. The programme includes on the second day a mass meeting at the Theatre Royal, which will be presided over by Mr. Austen Chamberlain and addressed by Mr. Bonar Law. A number of resolutions will be submitted during the sittings of the Conference. These include the following relating to Ireland:—

Mr. W. M. Jellett, K.C., M.P., to move:—

To call attention to the revolutionary movements now in progress in Ireland, and to the imminent peril to the lives, liberties, and property of law-abiding persons in the South and West, in consequence of the complete paralysis of the law in many large areas, from which the authority of the Crown has already been effectually banished; and to move that this Conference do impress upon the leaders of the Unionist Party the disastrous consequences both to Ireland, Great Britain, and the Empire, which must necessarily result if effective steps are not taken to deal with a highly dangerous situation.

Mr. Percy H. Bullas, Unionist Association, Stourbridge Division, Worcestershire, to move:—

That this Conference respectfully urges upon His Majesty's Government the importance of necessary measures being taken for the re-establishment of law and order in Ireland and for the proper protection of loyal and law-abiding citizens. It sincerely deplores the present state of anarchy and intimidation now prevailing, and pledges itself to support the Government in every action which may be considered necessary to curb the dangerous and destructive policy of the revolutionary parties.

The report of the Council mentions with regret that the dissentient Liberals and the Labour Party oppose the retention of the party truce during the period of reconstruction, and that the latter have raised in an acute form the question of nationalisation. The question of nationalisation, it says, is bound to be an issue of first importance at the next General Election.

FUNERAL OF SERGEANT KANE, R.I.C.

MILITARY HONOURS FOR KILMALLOCK HERO.

The remains of the late Sergeant Thomas Kane, R.I.C., were buried yesterday in Glasnevin Cemetery, Dublin. He was one of the heroic band of Constabulary who defended Kilmallock Police Barracks in an armed and incendiary attack last Thursday. He died in the burning building. Yesterday posthumous honours were accorded him in the dignity and ceremony with which his remains were laid at rest. The funeral was conducted with military honours, and representatives of the commissioned ranks of the Navy, the Army, and the Royal Irish Constabulary, by their presence, paid tribute to the deceased sergeant. His obsequies began with Requiem Mass at Aughrim street Church, whence a long procession followed the body to its grave. On the long route of the cortège there was an almost complete cessation of movement in the streets. The people stood respectfully to witness the passing of the remains of one who had done his duty until death.

A party of the 15th Hussars, with arms reversed, followed immediately by the Hussars' band, the band of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, and the band of the Royal Irish Constabulary, preceded the hearse, and behind it marched officers and men of the Dublin Metropolitan Police and the Royal Irish Constabulary, under the command of Colonel Edgeworth Johnstone, Chief Commissioner, Dublin Metropolitan Police, and the Inspector-General, Royal Irish Constabulary. The military authorities were represented by General Decies (who is also Divisional Commissioner of Constabulary for the Counties of Limerick, Clare, and Tipperary), Major-General Tudor, and Major-General Boyd. The hearse, with the coffin draped in the Union Jack, came next, and on the flag was placed the sergeant's helmet. Three Royal Irish Constabulary men walked on each side of the bier as pall bearers. After the coffin followed 60 constables in two widely separated single files. They carried reversed carbines. A number of District Inspectors of the Royal Irish Constabulary and naval and military officers carrying drawn swords followed. This section was succeeded by a representation from the Dublin Metropolitan Police, consisting of a number of constables and sergeants in full dress uniform, in the charge of an inspector. They were followed by a party of Royal Irish Constabulary, etc., in mufti, and then came a detachment of the 15th King's Hussars, with drawn swords reversed, who were followed by a party of the Lancashire Fusiliers with reversed rifles. Fifteen or sixteen carriages in which were the relatives and personal friends of Sergeant Kane completed the procession. The chief mourners were Sergeant Kane's widow and children and brother.

At the graveside the "Last Post" was sounded by Sergeant Kelly and Constable Seymour, of the Royal Irish Constabulary Bugle Staff, and beautiful wreaths were placed on the grave from the widow and children of the deceased, General Decies, commandant and officers of the mess, Royal Irish Constabulary Dépôt, sergeants and men at the Dépôt, etc. The last prayers were recited by the Rev. Father Field, C.C., Aughrim street, assisted by Rev. Father Thurley, C.C., Aughrim street, and Rev. Father Martin, C.C., Arran quay Church.

Three volleys were fired over the grave by a military firing party, and the "Last Post" sounded.

TRINITY WEEK.

ENJOYABLE SECOND DAY.

When the sun beamed upon the College Park yesterday everybody who watched the progress of the cricket match between Dublin University and Derbyshire felt glad that June had been heralded in a blaze of sunshine. The weather on Monday had not been at all kind, and there were no tears shed over the departure of May. It just needed the genuine touch of summer to complete the success of Trinity Week, as all the other contributory elements, including the splendid band of the Wiltshire Regiment, were present. The park, with its deep fringe of trees, its velvet sward, and its shaded walks, never looked better than it did yesterday when the players took the field. There was a fairly large crowd, which was lacking neither in enthusiasm nor appreciation of the finer points of the game, and as the day wore on the attendance increased, so that in the afternoon the scene recalled the glories of pre-war days. The victory of the College Eleven was greeted with warm applause.

To-day the College sports will begin. There will also be boxing and tennis competitions. The day should prove one of the most attractive of those that constitute Trinity Week.

UNIVERSITY OF DUBLIN CHORAL SOCIETY.

"THE SPECTRE'S BRIDE."

Dvorak's "The Spectre's Bride" was written for, and first produced at, the Birmingham Festival of 1885—a memorable occasion, in that it was the last time Joseph Maas ever sang. It held the audience in the Examination Hall, Trinity College, last night with interest as fresh and unabated as if it had been a first performance here. The work is highly imaginative, and, no doubt, was greatly influenced by Dvorak's peasant memories, its colour, always a strong characteristic of Dvorak, having the freshness and certainty of instinct—inspiration is hardly the word. The story is a Czech version of the legend treated in Bürgur's "Lenore"—the old theme of a despairing effort to bridge the chasm between the love of the living and the dead, and with, to say the least, as unsatisfactory a result as that of modern Spiritualism. If the cantata has faults they may lie in the weight of the chorus, which often entirely overbore both tenor and soprano—always to be ascribed to the writing. The virility of the baritone passages is in strong contrast, and keeps up the narrative very finely, while the repeated lines, such as "And on he went, with rapid gait," and the beautiful soprano line "I do not fear when I have thee," lend the quaint ballad-simplicity of folk-lore to an otherwise complex work. Though Dvorak uses tonal devices they do not obtrude themselves, but are merely aids to self-expression. In the "Charnel House" they abound, but merely as accompaniments. One recalls Saint Saëns in the "Danse Macabre," where one is always conscious of the xylophone in the rattling dancers, and the oboe in the dawn cock crow, to prefer Dvorak's treatment of the same idea in the final chorus, which last night was an orchestral treat, the serenity of morning being unmistakably pictured.

Dvorak's great lyrical technique is displayed in the elasticity of the verse rhythms, which, from their wonderful changes, ask much from chorus and principals. It was in the recitative passages that the tenor was heard most effectively, and the soprano in the second aria gave a really beautiful study of the part, which was helped by fine violin-playing in the accompaniment, the harp pointing the appeal of the close. But to the baritone and chorus go the honours of the story, especially in the chorus, "The pathway now less rugged grows," and the fugal "The maiden then in deadly fright."

Dr. Figgis conducted the work with a thorough grasp of its technical difficulties and possibilities, and made a really thrilling study of a most fascinating work. The string work in the orchestra was exceptionally fine, with a good relation to the emotional support of the voice effects.

WORLD HISTORY.

THE MARCH OF MAN.

MR. WELLS'S "OUTLINE."

(SPECIALLY REVIEWED.)

The overwhelming desire of men, when they have satisfied the demands of the senses and performed all the complicated rituals of thought and deed that Society imposes on them, is to see life and to see it whole. Now and then some man with larger conceptions or wider opportunities than the rest enjoys a manifestly wider cosmic vision, and is hailed as a great philosopher, a great historian, or a great traveller. For a while it seems as if the summit of wisdom had been scaled, but the moving finger continues to write, and a few swift decades generally suffice to prove how immeasurably myopic has been the vision of all the sages that discussed so wisely of the known and the unknown, and the intimate relation of all things and all ideas in the jigsaw puzzle that we call creation.

The epic of the created world, the saga of evolution, the life-history of Life, is still a blurred, and to the inexpert eye an undecipherable, palimpsest upon which philosophers and doctrinaires, historians and smatterers, zealots and men of science, the combative casuist and the cold seeker after truth have all scribbled and erased in turn. Science to-day is a hundred-inch telescope, but the vast majority of the human race are still looking through it from the wrong end. The growth of scientific knowledge is known only to the scientific. The layman merely looks for practical results—the new bomb, the new drug, the new machine, increased opportunities for being restless, talkative, pugnacious, self-indulgent.

If not more wonderful than the epic of the created world, the epic of man, the saga of man's pursuit of knowledge, is far more attractive. While a better appreciation of man's place in the cosmic scheme reduces the egoist to humility—and men rightly detest being humble—and the poor in spirit to despair, the study of his indomitable pilgrimage down the desperate ages of the still elusive well of knowledge at the world's end is tremendously inspiring. History is almost the negation of science, for the whole lesson of the telescope and the microscope and all the other instruments with which we pry upon the stars and atoms in their courses is that man is not of the slightest importance to anything or anybody. The whole lesson of history, on the other hand, is that man is the only thing that matters, that what we call creation is a pyramid of which top and bottom are invisible and in which life appears half way up. Matter, history seems to tell us, came into being in order that one day there might be life; the lower forms of life exist only that higher forms may ultimately be attained. Man to-day is infinitely higher than the protozoon, infinitely lower than the thousandth generation of his children will be.

We are apt to speak of fundamental facts and basic conceptions, and we talk of getting to the bottom of a thing. These metaphors are likely to confuse. It is better to think of knowledge as a vast pyramid composed of smaller pyramids, each of which in turn is composed of still smaller pyramids, and so forth. The apex of every pyramid is the one important fact deducible from all the lesser facts that support it. That one important fact in turn, and in conjunction with others, composes a larger pyramid, the apex of which forms a still more important fact, which in turn contributes to the support of an even vaster pyramid, the apex of which is an enormously important fact. And so on. It is obvious that the man who begins by concentrating on the enormously important facts and ignoring all below them is likely to get further than the man who begins at the bottom of the pyramid and starts to work his way up; but because only the mind that is accustomed to correlating small facts can grasp big ones it is not possible for the normal man to start too high up. It is better to know what to know than to know a lot, but what to know takes a lot of knowing.

Ever since the dawn of civilisation, and, doubtless, long before it, men have sought the larger vision, the sovereign alchemy by which the dross of knowledge could be transmuted in the twinkling of an eye into the precious metal of wisdom. Some sought it in travel, making long journeys East and West to visit the market places of the world and the wise men whose reputations had gone abroad from city to city. Others sought it in the cloister, in lone communion with the precious manuscripts, somewhere among which, if it could only be found, the ancients implicitly believed all wisdom lay concealed. This mediæval habit of looking backward and not forward for new contributions to knowledge has died hard. It also accounts for the immeasurable ignorance of our forefathers in countless matters well within their powers of observation, even at a time when the study of law and history and philosophy was at its zenith. Our forefathers attached little importance to facts, immense importance to philosophic conceptions which they cheerfully assumed to be based upon facts, and their faith has been justified by the extent to which the philosophical conceptions of the ancient philosophers were right, although their facts were wrong.

In the last five hundred years knowledge and the uses and needs of knowledge have increased a thousand-fold. The ordinary business man's life of to-day involves the acquisition and retention of far greater masses of actual fact than any Greek philosopher probably enjoyed or was required to assimilate. The sixth form public schoolboy may not be as great a thinker, but he probably knows more than Plato ever did. The difference is that Plato knew only the things that mattered, that made for an understanding of the riddle of the Universe. The trouble with the man of to-day who would know something of this riddle is that the knowledge which he must have for conducting his ordinary affairs is generally useless and the time for acquiring other knowledge extremely limited. Seen from the hill of ignorance the fertile plains of knowledge look very inviting. But where to begin? Once start upon the descent and a thousand stony and uninviting pathways stretch out in all directions. This one leads to a dismal swamp called Higher Mathematics, that to an arid waste that goes by the name of Comparative Philology, while a third ends in a jungle called Jurisprudence or a remote bog known as the Secret History of the Oxford Movement. The would-be seeker for knowledge finds himself in a maze in which all paths lead ultimately to the goal, but only one leads straight to it. How shall he proceed without a guide?

It is because men are constantly seeking such a guide that books like Mr. H. G. Wells's "Outline of History" are so welcome when they are good, so popular, frequently, even when they are not. The "Outline of History" is good—the best thing of its kind that has ever been published. To write a history of the world, as Mr. Wells has done, even with the expert advice and assistance of such learned men as Sir H. H. Johnston, Sir E. Ray Lankester, and Professor Gilbert Murray, is no small undertaking. Only once before in recent times has such a task been undertaken, but "The Martyrdom of Man" unfortunately lost, through the uncompromising agnosticism of its author, the popularity which otherwise it would have enjoyed. Previous attempts had been made to compile history; no one had ever before attempted to present the world's history as a single consistent process. Mr. Wells, following Winwood Reade's example, attempts to write history as a single human story, but he has the advantage of access to the fruits of matured scholarship and more advanced science and of writing for a more enlightened public. Moreover, the "Outline of History" is magnificently illustrated, and in history, above all other subjects, pictorial and photographic art are more powerful and rapid instructors than the most eloquent pen.

To urge the possession and perusal by every man, woman, and child capable of reading of the "Outline of History" may sound too like the expert advice that modern publishers inevitably distribute in advance of their wares. Yet we can give that advice with the firm conviction that nobody will be the worse for taking it.

MASONIC FEMALE ORPHAN SCHOOL.

The half-yearly meeting of the Board of Governors of the Masonic Female Orphan School was held yesterday at the Schoolhouse, Ballsbridge, when the report of the scrutineers of the ballot for the admission of twelve pupils from the following list of candidates was read:—

Bell, Moira A.; Bracken, Florence A.; Campbell, Nellie D.; Crawford, Margaret A. F.; Davies, Edna A. D.; Dymond, Edith M.; Fawsett, Caroline M.; Gamble, Margaret M.; Golding, Violet D.; Hamilton, Kathleen S. A.; Hoey, Sarah J.; King, Mary E.; Lambe, Norah H. M.; McCormack, Mary K.; Menary, Beatrice E.; Pelissier, Helen K.; Reid, Mary G.; Rodgers, Emily W.; Roy, Elsie; Ruddock, Eveline M.; Sizer, Kathleen W.; Smith, Marjorie E.; Swarbrigg, Ida G. M.; Walsh, Edith M.

It was unanimously resolved that the twelve candidates who obtained the highest number of votes be elected. Accordingly Ida G. M. Swarbrigg (5,330), Emily W. Rodgers (5,090), Mary E. King (4,895), Elsie Roy (4,836), Mary K. McCormack (4,556), Margaret M. Gamble (4,334), Edna A. D. Davies (4,306), Moira A. Bell (4,045), Marjorie E. Smith (4,002), Kathleen S. A. Hamilton (3,482), Margaret A. F. Crawford (2,992), Sarah J. Hoey (2,841), were declared duly elected pupils of the School.

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE PROPRIETORS OF THE TIMES.)

THE GOVERNMENT OF IRELAND.

The Times, in a leading article to-day, says:—We publish this morning a powerful protest from Sir Horace Plunkett against the Irish policy of the Government. Though we have frequently found ourselves in disagreement with him, we believe his warning to be in this instance timely and largely justified. The outlook is, indeed, black. Even if the measures contemplated by the new Irish Executive prove effectual, they will at best avail to neutralise violence by the dead weight of military power. They cannot solve the Irish problem. There have recently been indications that Sinn Fein is attempting to cope with those aspects of social disorder which are inconvenient to its own purposes. Surreptitious courts enforce a species of law. Judgments are given and punishments inflicted. While such amateur justice may be preferable to the tyranny of unrestrained terrorists, it can scarcely expect to restore with one hand the order which those who administer it destroy with the other. The Government Bill proposes to transfer to the Irish people responsibility for public order in their country. Yet, were the bill in operation, the Sinn Feiners of to-day would exercise constitutionally many of those powers which they now arbitrarily assume. That is the inevitable outcome of the present position, and it is essential that it should be fully recognised. If it be so recognised, the folly of regarding the popular movement in Ireland, complicated though it be by unquestionable elements of Bolshevism and of Fenianism, as nought save a baleful conspiracy to be crushed by force becomes apparent. For the moment Sinn Fein is all powerful, and it is virtually synonymous with the Irish people. Either it will employ the powers which the Government are now formulating for its use through constitutional channels, or, in a spirit of unappeased insurgence, it will force continuance of the present system to the breaking point of open warfare. In the latter alternative this bill will have led only to accumulated terrors and fresh perplexities. The Irish question, though primarily British, far transcends any purely domestic issues. In the Dominions, in America, and in every country where the hand of the hostile propagandist is at work it is a growing source of embarrassment and discredit. Settlement is alike essential to our peace at home and to our honour abroad, yet settlement can only be effected with the Irish people in Ireland, and by the instrumentality of a Government with courage to win their respect and good-will to engage their confidence. At the close of the war, adds The Times, the Government had a great opportunity which they tragically neglected. No military devices and no new schemes of Castle administration can now avail to restore it. If at the eleventh hour Ireland is to be saved from the terrible extremity towards which she moves, it can only be by a swift stroke of statesmanship, boldly and honestly conceived. Such a stroke would demand—first, vision to discern the realities of her present state and the perils that await her; secondly, the courage to do strict and impartial justice between her disputing parties; thirdly, the generosity to confess past failures and mistakes and to offer liberal amends. If these qualities should, indeed, inspire the Government to re-state the terms of their rejected offer, and to confer upon a united Ireland a status and powers as wide as her strategic position and the irrefutable facts of her economic and political case permit, we do not believe that her people would in their grave emergency persist in refusal to consider it. But, unless some such step be taken, and taken now, we look forward with profound and sombre apprehension to a future of unrelieved gloom.

IRISH CHAOS.

The following are extracts from a lengthy letter upon the situation in Ireland, contributed by Sir Horace Plunkett to The Times to-day:—

The present Irish situation would in normal times not only have gravely reflected upon the policy of His Majesty's Ministers, but would have led to their immediate resignation. As things are, public opinion tolerates the disastrous failure of Administration after Administration in Ireland, and the sending over of Administrators, some of whom are glad to get their feet on the Irish rung of the British political ladder, while others offer themselves for a forlorn hope. Whatever their character or capacity, they all have the same experience. Long before they can gain even a nodding acquaintance with Irish life they, of necessity, become the obedient tools of the Competent Military Authority. Upon the relation between coercion and crime, I am bound to charge the Government with what I believe was unintentional perversion of the truth. By a wholly new departure in political propaganda they publish statistics of crime "attributable" (attributed would surely be the honest word) to Sinn Fein." Imagine the happenings if, in face of grave industrial disturbances in England, a list of crimes "attributed to the Labour Party" had been published. But even this would not have been so questionable a procedure as that which omitted to mention the arrest, deportation, and imprisonment by the hundred of persons uncharged and untried, raids upon private dwellings by the thousand, Curfew, and other similar proclamations innumerable, to say nothing of the suppression of the meetings and newspapers of the most numerous political party in Ireland. I hold that the immediate and direct concession of complete national self-government, restricted always and only by the necessity of maintaining the strategic unity of the United Kingdom, is the quickest, the easiest, and the surest road to Irish peace. Call upon the Ulster Unionists to join in the offer to Sinn Fein of a united Ireland ranking with the free nations of the British Commonwealth, and I am confident you will at once be able to withdraw your Army of Occupation, and, for the first time through all the centuries of Anglo-Irish conflict, to take credit for having done full justice to Ireland.

THE POPE AND THE PEOPLE.

In the course of a leading article to-day, The Times says:—The world must await the full text of the Papal Encyclical, which our Rome Correspondent summarises by anticipation, before the precise import of the document can be measured and weighed. The summary, however, shows that it contains an announcement which would have caused no little surprise a few years ago. Pope Benedict XV., like all sagacious men, who are in authority, is concerned by the effects of the war upon the minds and the feelings of the masses of mankind. He exhorts nations, as well as individuals, to forgiveness of injuries and to practical charity, "in spite of conflicts now concluded," and he declares that in his opinion the "fraternisation of the peoples may be greatly promoted by the interchange of visits between the heads of States and Governments." He then proceeds to give a practical application to his view. He states that, "in order himself to co-operate in the desired fraternisation, he would not be averse from mitigating, to some extent, the rigour of the conditions justly established by his predecessors after the destruction of the Principate of the Holy See, with the object of preventing Catholic Sovereigns from visiting Rome officially." This is a very marked departure from the attitude hitherto observed by successive Pontiffs. The language employed by the Pope shows that he is deeply conscious of the fact. The relaxation, he affirms, has been made "in consideration of changed circumstances and of the threatening turn of events in the world." He deems it to be "counselled, or rather demanded, as it would seem," by the gravity of the moment; and nobody who is conscious of that gravity will question its sufficiency as a motive for the step. The change in the rule, adds The Times, will tend to strengthen all Catholic thrones and Presidential chairs, and, first among them, the Throne of Italy. We have very little doubt that it has been made for this purpose, and with special regard to the existing situation in the last-named country. The Times further comments:—We should be glad to think that the world-policy of the Holy See will be distinguished by an intelligent and zealous application of this same principle of conversation. There is, unhappily, but too much reason to suppose that the minor agents of the Vatican in many lands are working in direct opposition to it. In Italy, and in other countries—in France, in Belgium, and elsewhere—they have been at no pains to conceal their friendship for Germany, their anxiety for the rehabilitation of Austria, and their bitter enmity to the aims and to the cause of the Allies. It is not for us to judge the ecclesiastical policy of the Vatican, but as a matter of worldly wisdom we conceive this attitude to be utterly short-sighted and unwise. The hostility which these men do not scruple to exhibit towards this country is, humanly speaking, as foolish as it is unprovoked. Only a few days since we had to record the presence of an Irish Cardinal, reported to be particularly moderate in his views, and a number of Irish ecclesiastics, at an entertainment given by the "Irish Ambassador" in Rome, under the flag of the "Irish Republic." Has the Vatican reflected what feelings such an open act of sedition is calculated to produce in loyal British subjects? If it thinks what would have been the consequences of a similar act of disloyalty on the part of a Polish Cardinal in the palmy days of the Hohenzollerns, it will have a standard by which to measure the magnanimous lenity of British policy and of British rule. That lenity, however, has its limits. There is no wisdom in treading closely to them.

He deems it to be "counselled, or rather demanded, as it would seem," by the gravity of the moment; and nobody who is conscious of that gravity will question its sufficiency as a motive for the step. The change in the rule, adds The Times, will tend to strengthen all Catholic thrones and Presidential chairs, and, first among them, the Throne of Italy. We have very little doubt that it has been made for this purpose, and with special regard to the existing situation in the last-named country. The Times further comments:—We should be glad to think that the world-policy of the Holy See will be distinguished by an intelligent and zealous application of this same principle of conversation. There is, unhappily, but too much reason to suppose that the minor agents of the Vatican in many lands are working in direct opposition to it. In Italy, and in other countries—in France, in Belgium, and elsewhere—they have been at no pains to conceal their friendship for Germany, their anxiety for the rehabilitation of Austria, and their bitter enmity to the aims and to the cause of the Allies. It is not for us to judge the ecclesiastical policy of the Vatican, but as a matter of worldly wisdom we conceive this attitude to be utterly short-sighted and unwise. The hostility which these men do not scruple to exhibit towards this country is, humanly speaking, as foolish as it is unprovoked. Only a few days since we had to record the presence of an Irish Cardinal, reported to be particularly moderate in his views, and a number of Irish ecclesiastics, at an entertainment given by the "Irish Ambassador" in Rome, under the flag of the "Irish Republic." Has the Vatican reflected what feelings such an open act of sedition is calculated to produce in loyal British subjects? If it thinks what would have been the consequences of a similar act of disloyalty on the part of a Polish Cardinal in the palmy days of the Hohenzollerns, it will have a standard by which to measure the magnanimous lenity of British policy and of British rule. That lenity, however, has its limits. There is no wisdom in treading closely to them.

PAPAL ENCYCLICAL.

THE KING OF ITALY.

THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF PEACE.

The Pope has issued an Encyclical, announcing that, while maintaining the claims of the Holy See to temporal power, he rescinds the prohibition against a Catholic ruler visiting the King of Italy in Rome. It is understood that the first King to visit Rome under the new conditions will be the King of Spain. The Pope in this important document inculcates the necessity of eliminating the germs of discord which prevented the full re-establishment of peace, and seriously injured, not only temporal interests, but the life and spirit of Christianity as taught by the Lord's Prayer and the example of Our Saviour. In conformity with this principle, the Pope forgives those who during the war distorted his intentions and tarnished his work. He adds:—"The chief object of the Catholic Church is to help humanity," and he appeals to the bishops to teach their flocks the necessity for forgiveness and charity.

Continuing, the Pontiff renews the protest made by his predecessors for the purpose of protecting the rights and dignity of the Holy See, and asks that once peace has been re-established the abnormal conditions affecting the head of the Church shall also cease, as they are prejudicial to the tranquillity of the peoples. His Holiness urges nations to join fraternally together to reduce, if not to eliminate, military expenditure, which is weighing heavily on the finances of various States. Thus, he pleads, the danger of fresh conflagrations will be rendered more remote, and independence and territorial integrity within its just frontiers will be ensured to every nation.

The Church, he declares, will not fail to co-operate with this association of the peoples with the efficiency to which history bears witness.

IRISH ROMAN CATHOLICS AND THE POPE.

CARDINAL LOGUE'S SPEECH IN ROME.

A Reuter's Rome telegram of Monday says:—The festivities in connection with the beatification of Oliver Plunket ended to-day in a splendid banquet in the refectory of the Irish College in Rome. Sixty-five guests were invited, including Cardinal Logue, the Archbishops Spence, of Adelaide; Redwood, of Wellington; Harty, of Cashel; and Spratt, of Kingston, Canada. A large number of the Irish bishops still in Rome and also a number of Irish laymen were present.

Cardinal Logue toasted the Pope, adding that the Popes had always been friends of Ireland, while Ireland was steadfastly loyal to the Popes. His Eminence added that during the worst times the island experienced the only friend left to Ireland had been the Pope. He recalled the Irishmen who fought and fell for the Pope in Italy, especially those who fell at Castel Pidardo. During the late war, he said, everything possible had been done to induce the Pope to side with one or other of the belligerents, instead of which, however, the Pope went as straight as an arrow. There is not one of President Wilson's points, continued Cardinal Logue, which were not included in the Pope's conditions for peace.

Referring to all the Pope had done in the war, Cardinal Logue concluded—The Pope will make justice and right triumph over oppression.

The Bishop of Clonfert then sang a song in laudation of the Pope, all present joining in the chorus.

Monsignor Barretti, proposing the toast of Cardinal Vanutelli, expressed the appreciation of all present for the work he had done in connection with the beatification of Oliver Plunket. He implored the protection of Almighty God for the Irish people, whose attachment to the Roman Catholic faith was illustrated by Daniel O'Connell, whose heart was buried there.

Rev. Father C. O'Gorman also toasted Cardinal Vanutelli.

The latter made a speech in reply, and recalled the work of the late Monsignor O'Riordan, Rector of the Irish College in Rome, in connection with the beatification of Oliver Plunket. Cardinal Vanutelli continued—The Irish nation suffered when Plunket was martyred, and it is still suffering, but I hope their sufferings will soon be ended.

The Bishops of Raphoe and Clogher and Monsignor Hagan also spoke. In the afternoon a large reception was held.

BRITISH WARSHIPS AND THE CRIMEA.

STATEMENT BY MR. WALTER LONG.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Long stated, in reply to Major Mackenzie Wood, that British warships were protecting the sea communications with the Crimea until an armistice was arranged between General Wrangel's army and Soviet Russia. Negotiations would commence shortly. The ships were there to prevent an attack by Soviet troops along the Black Sea coast towards Batoum, and to support the garrison at Batoum.

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy asked why we were protecting communications when there was no hostile fleet at sea to threaten them in any way.

Mr. Long said that he did not suggest that there was hostility from the sea. But he said that we were preventing an attack on Batoum, of which there were indications. He really thought that his hon. and gallant friend would do better to advise his friends and those whom he represented there with so much enthusiasm and vigour, rather than to be criticising those who were only doing their duty in carrying out the policy of the Allies. (Cheers.)

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy asked was not the right hon. gentleman aware that he represented the division of Central Hull, and how did it come about that the right hon. gentleman allowed himself to depart from his usual courtesy.

Mr. Long said that he was not aware that he was guilty of any discourtesy, but the hon. and gallant gentleman had pressed frequently, with great vigour and ability, the opinions of those to whom we had been opposed, and he (Mr. Long) suggested that the better way would be to give them good advice rather than to attack the Government.

Mr. Hogge—Is it the case that the British Empire Government are at war with Soviet Russia?

Mr. Long—No; it is not. I have yet to learn that by taking precautions, in order to avoid attacks upon a base which the Allies have undertaken to protect, we are at war.

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy asked whether the Admiralty had now adopted the policy of the Prime Minister, of making peace with these people.

Mr. Walter Long said that he had repeatedly stated that the Admiralty was strictly carrying out the policy laid down by the Prime Minister in that House, and they had carried out all the conditions laid down in regard to the Baltic Sea, and in this particular case they had taken only ordinary precautionary measures which were rendered necessary by the policy of the Allies.

DARING DAYLIGHT RAID IN DUBLIN.

KING'S INNS GUARD HELD UP AND DISARMED.

SEIZURE OF RIFLES.

A MACHINE GUN CAPTURED.

One of the most daring and deliberate raids of recent times was carried out at the King's Inns, Dublin, yesterday, in daylight, at a time when traffic was busy, and in the centre of a largely populated area. A party of armed men surprised the sentry and the guard, seized about thirteen rifles and five hundred rounds of ammunition, a Lewis machine gun, thirteen bayonets, and battle order equipment, and calmly depositing them in two waiting motor cars, departed.

The affair took place between 3.45 and 4 p.m. About that time some sixty men were observed marching in open order along Constitution Hill towards the King's Inns, and simultaneously a body of about thirty men approached the building from Henrietta street. Two motor cars were in the street close to the entrance to the Inns, and suddenly the sentry on guard was ordered to hold up his hands, revolvers being pointed at him by some of the men. His rifle was taken from him, and it appears that, while he was guarded, a party of about twenty men entered the guardroom, where there were eight or nine soldiers, cut the telephone wires, covered the soldiers with revolvers, and took possession of the machine gun, rifles, ammunition, and equipment.

At the same time the officials in the Inns were held up, and not permitted to leave from their places until the object of the raiders had been accomplished. This was done in the course of about ten minutes, and no time was lost in getting the material into the motor cars, which were driven away—to where it is not known. A number of the men engaged in the raid got into the cars, and when the operations had been completed those who had surrounded the Inns dispersed in different directions.

It is believed that the majority of the men were armed. No arrests were made, nor has any of the missing property been recovered.

Civilians who were approaching the King's Inns were held up during the raid, but when it was over a crowd, which had collected, cheered the raiders. No one was injured during the course of the proceedings.

It is stated that the rifles were "stacked" in the guardroom at the time when the men rushed in, and were not in the hands of the soldiers, who were taken completely by surprise, and were unable, in the face of superior numbers, to offer any effective resistance. It is also stated that the men were not disguised, and that some of them, remaining behind for a few minutes, warned the soldiers not to leave for at least ten minutes, and that if they did so they would have only themselves to blame for the consequences. A new guard was put on, and considerable excitement prevailed in the locality when it became known what had happened. Both police and military were very active after the occurrence, and keen inquiries are being made regarding the disposal of the property.

Inquiries made at military headquarters last night received the answer that no official report would be issued.

MILITARY ON DUTY IN KILMALLOCK.

Telegraphing from Kilmallock last night, our Reporter says:—Last night passed peacefully in Kilmallock, but it would be a misrepresentation of the situation to suggest that the conditions in the town are perfectly normal. Feeling is very tense. Much concern is being expressed in commercial circles in the town as to what action may be taken by the authorities as a result of recent events. It is apprehended that business may be more or less paralysed by such proclamations as those which were put into effect in Thurles and other towns following the attacks upon the police in which loss of life was involved. The majority of the shopkeepers of Kilmallock, as in other Munster towns, are not in favour of the policy now in vogue of attacking police barracks, and they stand to be the greatest sufferers from any measures which would tend to interfere with business. At the time of writing no proclamation has been issued by the police or military authorities, but it is generally anticipated that some definite action will be taken in the course of the next few days.

Constable Hoey, who was seriously wounded in the course of the attack on the police barrack, is still in a serious condition in the local hospital. He has been visited by his relatives, and is receiving every care at the hands of Dr. MacNamara and the nursing staff.

A party of military and police was engaged to-day in removing all that could be salved from the wreckage of the barrack. The articles removed included the steel shutters of the building, which had been perforated by bullets from the rifles of the attacking party. It is stated that a public inquiry will be held, on the initiative of the parties financially affected in connection with the burning of the People's Hall. Kilmallock continues to be patrolled day and night by parties of fully armed police and military.

CATTLE-DRIVING CAMPAIGN.

ROSCOMMON AND LEITRIM FARMS CLEARED.

At the Roscommon Petty Sessions yesterday, before Mr. J. P. Byrne, R.M., and Mr. C. M. Russell, R.M., three men named Martin Kennedy, Patrick Healy, and Thomas Kelly were charged with driving the stock off the lands of Miss O'Rorke at Taughboy. Another of the accused, Thomas Kennedy, it was learned, had gone to England.

Mr. MacSherry, solicitor for the defence, said that the "drive" took place on the only lands where it was possible for the defendants to get any additions to their small holdings. The tenants had come to terms with the owner, Miss O'Rorke, and had purchased her interest in the land.

The defendants were allowed out on bail.

In a second case against five men named Brennan, Murray, Kiernan, Brehony, and Fox, for driving the stock of Thomas Scally off the farm at Killernay, Mr. Hetreed, D.I., stated that two of the accused were still evading arrest.

Asked if they had anything to say, Brennan and Murray said that they did not recognise the Court.

The defendants were bound to the peace, or, in default, three months' imprisonment. Kiernan gave bail, and the other two were removed in custody.

There was a crowd at the railway station to witness the departure of the accused. The police, however, to prevent any trouble, motored the accused to the next station, Knockcroghery.

SERIOUS ATTACK ON EXTENSIVE FARMER.

It was reported in Roscommon on Monday that a party of men visited the house of an extensive landowner at Milford, Creggs, and, after badly beating him and breaking some of his ribs, compelled him to sign an agreement to surrender the grass lands in his possession. The victim has since been under medical treatment.

Almost all the farm hands and servants employed by Mr. Walpole, J.P., Castlenode, Strokestown, have left him. Mr. Walpole is forced to herd his own stock, which is protected by military. The military have arrived on the farms of the Congested Districts Board, and have impounded all the grazing stock thereon in order to get the names of the owners. All work has been suspended on the lands of the Board, the labourers having "downed tools" at the suggestion of the local Volunteers, pending a settlement.

BIG CLEARANCE IN CO. LONGFORD.

A cattle drive of huge dimensions is reported to have taken place at Abbeylara, near Granard, on Sunday night. Several hundred young men attended and cleared the cattle off the lands owned by Mr. Bond, D.L., and Mr. Jackson, as well as off the lands in the occupation of Mr. Keegan, of Granard, and Mr. James Reilly, of Kilbride. In the latter case the cattle were driven to the house of the owner, and the remaining animals, numbering a couple of hundred, were driven on to the roads. Placards were extensively posted over the lands intimating that the cattle were "evicted," as the land was required for the people. No attempt was made to put the stock back on the lands. A number of farmers in North Longford have received threatening notices that their lands will be cleared unless they consent to sell to the people.

BLARNEY POLICE BARRACK ATTACKED.

FINE DEFENCE BY THE GARRISON.

ARRIVAL OF THE MILITARY FROM CORK.

Our Cork Correspondent, telegraphing at an early hour this morning, says:—A daring attack was made on Blarney Police Barrack, near Cork City, at 10 o'clock last night.

A large party of armed men opened fire on the station, and after half an hour they called upon the police to surrender, but they refused to do so. The attack was resumed, the police replying vigorously to the fire of their assailants.

Bombs were used in an effort to destroy the barrack. The police put up a gallant defence, but the raiders succeeded in boring a hole in the gable of the building, and they blew away a portion of it with explosives.

The police continued to resist, and, after two hours, the military arrived from Cork, and the raiders withdrew. The arrival of the soldiers was delayed by the cutting of the telegraph wires and the blocking of the roads with trees and stones.

So far as can be ascertained the police suffered no casualties.

OUTRAGES OFFICIALLY REPORTED.

The summary of official reports of outrages received on the 1st June, 1920, contains the following:—

Co. Galway.—On May 29th the police found posted up at Ballycuddy a notice warning workmen not to shear any sheep for a landowner or they would be shot dead. Underneath was the drawing of a gun.

Co. Kilkenny.—On May 29th Paulstown vacated R.I.C. Barracks were completely destroyed by fire. Fifty yards of wall were knocked down and a pump injured.

Co. Wexford.—Four youths were held up at Ferns, and searched for arms by armed and masked men. One shot was fired. There were no casualties.

Co. Carlow.—At 11.30 p.m. on May 30th two houses in the Carlow district were raided by six masked and armed men. They found and took away one single-barrelled gun and fifty cartridges.

Co. Kerry.—At 1.30 p.m. on May 30th the mail car from Listowel to Tralee was held up and the mails searched. No letters are believed to have been taken.

Co. Galway.—On the night of May 30th Leenane (vacated) R.I.C. Barracks, in the Clifden district, was maliciously burned.

Co. Wicklow.—At 2 a.m. on May 29th stock were driven off two farms in Dunlavin district, and a shot was fired outside the herd's house.

Co. Galway.—On May 28th notices were found posted in the Dunmore district stating that any persons entering a shop would fall. At 1.15 p.m. on May 30th the shopkeeper's son was fired at and wounded.

Co. Cork.—On the night of May 30th Kilbehenny Rectory was maliciously and completely destroyed by fire. The rectory was vacant, and the object was to prevent military occupation.

Co. Londonderry.—At about 6 p.m. on the 28th, when an ex-Army officer was walking out of Derry city, he was held up by three armed men, who demanded arms and ammunition for the "Irish Volunteers." He was then searched, and £6 in notes taken from him.

Co. Limerick.—At 5.25 p.m. on the 31st a postman was held up by armed and disguised men at Derk, and taken inside the fence. The mail bags were then opened, and all the letters taken.

Co. Cork.—At 8 p.m. on the 26th three men, unarmed and undisguised, called at four houses in the Midleton district, and demanded arms. They got two single-barrel shot guns.

Co. Cork.—A party of five masked and armed men raided seven houses in the Bandon district for arms. They got only an old muzzle-loading gun and a gas mask.

Queen's County.—Between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m. on the 29th twelve head of cattle were driven off a farm at Rathmore. This is a continuation of a series of outrages committed to compel the owner to surrender the land.

Co. Cork.—During the early morning of the 30th the Customs and Excise Office, Castletownbere, was maliciously set on fire and completely destroyed. All books and documents in the office were destroyed also.

Co. Galway.—On the 23rd notices were found posted in the Tuam district warning herds and others to leave their employment where the lands are agitated for; otherwise that they would be shot.

THE STRIKE AGAINST MUNITIONS.

THE NORTH WALL DEADLOCK.

The deadlock which has occurred at the North Wall as a result of the refusal of the London and North-Western Railway Company's employés to handle military material underwent no change yesterday.

The men's Strike Committee met in the morning, and issued "permits" for the removal of perishable goods from the stores, and the Gas Company was given leave to take away a number of tubes and bolts urgently required. Picketing was carried on as usual, but no untoward incident is reported. The company's passenger steamer Menevia arrived in the morning as usual, and left again last night, travellers being compelled to handle their own luggage.

An appeal for funds to assist the strikers is made by the National Executive of the Irish Labour Party, Trades Union Congress.

A military party endeavoured to place some material from Broadstone Station yesterday on the 1.10 p.m. train to the West, but employés of the Midland Great Western Railway refused to work the train if the van containing the supplies was attached.

The material in question consisted of kegs of gelignite, weighing about two tons, and it should have been escorted to Boyle for blasting purposes in connection with the railway work in progress at Lecarrow, County Roscommon. After some delay the soldiers unloaded the van, and took the kegs away with them in a motor lorry.

Mr. T. Farren, Chairman of the Irish Labour Party; Mr. J. Johnson, Acting Secretary; and Mr. Daly, National Union of Railwaymen, are going to London for the Trades Union Congress.

SOLDIERS ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED.

Two soldiers at Drumshambo were wounded yesterday while they were inspecting a revolver—one in the hand and the other in the leg. They were removed to hospital. Their injuries are not serious.

Hook Lighthouse, County Waterford, was raided by armed men on Monday night, and a quantity of detonators and rockets were stolen.

A Press Association telegram says that thousands of pounds worth of military stores belonging to the Royal Engineers were destroyed by fire at Bere Island on Monday night.

On Sunday morning the mail car plying between Longford and Strokestown was held up by six armed men, who demanded the mail bags, stating that they only required the official letters. All communications directed to the District Inspector of Police were seized, but nothing else was touched. The driver was searched, and a letter addressed to the District Inspector found in his possession was taken.

The mail bags robbed from the Bantry and Cork mail train on Saturday evening last at Durrus road railway station were returned yesterday to the Post Office authorities at Bantry minus the military and police letters. Almost all the parcels were opened; some were marked. "Censored by Irish Republic."

Our Roscommon Correspondent writes:—The residence of Dr. Dillon, J.P., of Coolmeen, near Roscommon, was raided about four o'clock in the evening while the doctor was absent at an auction in the neighbourhood. His stableman and housekeeper were tied up while the raid was proceeding, and a number of valuable swords and antique weapons were taken away.

The Tipperary Courthouse was occupied on Monday night by a strong party of military. The military are to remain there at night to guard against any attempt to set the building on fire.

It is rumoured here, says our Cavan Correspondent, that one of the men wounded in the attack on police at Crossdoney on Thursday has died in a Dublin hospital. So far no arrests have been made in connection with the affair. Policemen and soldiers are very active in the district. Sergeant Johnston, who was wounded in the affray, has been removed to a Dublin hospital for the extraction of a bullet from his thigh.

Our Carrick-on-Shannon Correspondent telegraphed last night:—Drumsna Courthouse was entered on Monday night forcibly by raiders, and the books and records were completely destroyed. Cavalry took up quarters at Kilmore, Drumsna, to-day in force. Their visit is believed to be connected with the land agitation in the district.

Military patrols were active in the streets of Dublin immediately after midnight last night, and during the morning armoured cars moved from place to place, searchlights being used to locate any persons who might be abroad. Four persons who were found without permits were arrested and taken to police stations.

DUBLIN ROTARY CLUB.

VISIT OF AMERICAN DELEGATES.

The President and members of the Dublin Rotary Club assembled at the Gresham Hotel last evening, where a conversazione was held in honour of the visit of Mr. Russell F. Greiner, of Kansas City (Missouri) and the Rev. Leslie Pidgeon, of Winnipeg. These gentlemen are visiting the Rotary Clubs in the British Isles as a delegation from the International Association of Rotary Clubs, of which body they are both past Presidents. There were many ladies present, and Mr. Manahan's orchestra played a selection of music during the evening.

Mr. Greiner said that Rotary was only fifteen years old, and yet it had more than fifty thousand members scattered over a vast expanse of territory, confined to the great throbbing centres of population. It had developed into the most powerful movement that the social and civic conditions of civilisation had created. Rotary is, he said, an organisation that is unique, interesting, arousing, and successful, with no-secret or mysterious initiation. It has a password that Rotarians would have, the password of every business or professional man, be he Rotarian or not—that word was service. Rotary has developed during the fifteen years of its existence into a powerful factor in business and civic affairs; it has made itself felt and heard until now hardly a day passes but some member of the Rotary Club was asked: What is Rotary, and what are its purposes? As in other organisations, men had worked their way into different clubs for no other purpose than to use it for personal advancement and profit; but they soon found themselves isolated and relegated beyond the pale. The Rotary Club, he said, is a power in the development of civic efficiency. It was the policy of its members to be conscientious and independent in civic affairs. They throw the weight of their influence and active assistance into good causes by co-operation with the central business organisations of the city. They infuse into them a spirit of honest co-operation and brotherly assistance, and eliminate that spirit of unfair criticism and fault-finding that prevails in the business life of so many cities. As members of the Rotary Club, they were bound to give a certain portion of their time to every activity for the uplift of their city and nation. Sitting under Rotary's teachings they had been able to solve business problems with a helpfulness bound with friendship; they had sharpened each other's wits by the interchange of knowledge, observation and experience. Contentment must enter into the life of a Rotarian. The Rotary Club was not merely an organisation made up of men to get acquainted. It was that, but something more. Rotary would teach its members in a very practical way that we are each other's keepers, and that men could not live within themselves alone. It had converted their egotism into altruism, vanity into humility, and abolished selfishness; it lifted men above petty jealousies and prejudices. Rotary is, he said, good fellowship, and good fellowship was compounded of sympathy, of understanding and of deeds. The sincere handclasp and the welcoming smile are its trademarks. The very instant a man was drawn into the folds of Rotary he became a brother and a better citizen. Lip service, physical service, or service of the brain could be purchased, but the service of a cheerful heart, the helping hand, the sunny smile, the service of high aspirations, of great accomplishments, of sterling patriotism, the doing of things for the good of mankind or for the love of the game—service such as that rendered by the men and women whose names stand out in the pages of heroism written during the past four years—this was the only true service, and this was the foundation principle of Rotary. Rotary was the making of men. It was the golden rule of business, its principles were those of the Church; its work was to lead men out of themselves into the noblest channels of existence. It had been said that when Rotary had reached its full fruition every Rotarian would be recognised as a fellow of the new aristocracy of character and service. Let them, therefore, believe that their lives have just begun and that a nobler bust must be graven for the niche of time. (Applause.)

The Rev. Leslie Pidgeon also spoke of the philosophy of Rotary, and told some good stories to paint the moral of his discourse. The main object of Rotary, he said, was to train each man to do his daily work as an upright member of society, and to do it in a sympathetic and kindly way towards his fellow-citizens. The doctrine of service was the main plank of Rotary; and the rock-bottom philosophy of the movement was the fundamental unity of human society.

The thanks of the Club were voted to the visitors, and the President (Dr E. M. Fannin), on behalf of the Club, presented to them an acceptable memento of their visit to Dublin.

IRISH QUESTIONS IN PARLIAMENT.

TAXATION UNAFFECTED BY ARSON.

In reply to Commander Sir Edward Nicholl, who asked, in the House of Commons yesterday, if it was anticipated that the destruction of the Inland Revenue offices throughout Ireland would reduce the amount of taxation to be received from that country, Mr. Baldwin replied—The damage to which my hon. friend referred will tend to cause delay in the collection of income tax in Ireland, but it is not anticipated that the ultimate yield of the tax will be seriously affected by what has occurred.

PROMOTIONS IN BELFAST POST OFFICE.

Mr. Illingworth writes, in reply to Mr. Moles, that six promotions were recently made to the overseers' class on the telegraph side of the Belfast Post Office. The claims of all the men passed over, including those who had served in the Army, were fully investigated. He could not admit that military service constituted, in itself, a claim to promotion, and he was satisfied that the officers selected were superior in qualifications and ability to those passed over. The claims of the officers would be reviewed when further vacancies arose. Selections for promotion were not necessarily confined to officers included in the acting list.

SINN FEIN "COURTS" AT WORK.

POLICE DUTIES UNDERTAKEN BY IRISH VOLUNTEERS.

The Sinn Fein Executive in North Kildare are, it is stated, at present devoting themselves to tracing the perpetrators of larcenies, and up to the present they have been singularly successful. Complaints having recently been made in Newbridge in reference to the stealing of a large quantity of oats, "arrests" were effected in the town on Friday night, when three young men were held up and driven to a place a considerable distance away. There they were kept in detention until Saturday evening, when they were formally charged with the larceny of the oats. The Court was formed of officers of the Volunteers. Every detail of the evidence was carefully sifted, while an officer was appointed for the defence. Several witnesses were examined, and at the close of the case the prisoners pleaded guilty. The "judges" inflicted heavy fines, and the prisoners were also ordered to pay the full value of the oats, to be handed over to the manager of the firm from which the corn was stolen. A pledge was also given as to the future conduct of the prisoners, and they were warned that in the event of a repetition of any such offence they would not be allowed to reside in the district.

INVESTIGATION BY CO. GALWAY VOLUNTEERS.

Recently a licensed house in Kylebrack, near Loughrea, was broken into and goods to the value of £2 6s. 8d. were carried away. The matter was reported to the local battalion of the Volunteers, who proceeded at once to investigate the case, and on Saturday night last four men were "arrested" in their beds at a late hour, and taken by motor, blindfolded, to an unknown destination, where a "courtmartial" was held. The accused pleaded guilty, and were discharged on giving an undertaking to the "Court" that they would make restitution within 48 hours.

Mr. J. Ludlow, Loughrea, whose walls and meadows were damaged during the week, has received a threatening letter signed "Sinn Fein." He handed the letter to the local Sinn Fein Club, the members of which are investigating the matter.

SINN FEIN ACTIVITY IN LEITRIM.

The counting of the votes for the Manorhamilton County Electoral Area took place in Carrick-on-Shannon yesterday, and resulted in Messrs. Fergus, Fox, Gilgan, and McDermott (Sinn Feiners) being returned. Volunteers guarded the ballot boxes all night.

A Sinn Fein flag floated at the main entrance to the Courthouse as the County Court Judge opened the Sessions. There being no criminal business, His Honor was presented with white gloves.

All the houses in the country districts surrounding Carrick-on-Shannon have been raided by masked and armed men, and the owners have been obliged to hand up their guns and ammunition. Where reluctance to do so was shown the houses were completely searched for all possible supplies of ammunition, and in cases where the people of the household were in bed they were compelled to get up while the search was being conducted.

THE SAXE-COBURG DIET ELECTIONS.

A Reuter's Berlin telegram of Monday says:—The following are the final results in the elections to the Saxe-Coburg Diet, which took place yesterday—Independents 9, German People's Party 3, German Nationals 1, Farmers' League 1, Democrats 1, Majority Socialists nil.

LIMERICK DOCKER'S DEATH.

SHOT IN THE STREETS.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

CROWN COUNSEL AND THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICE.

The adjourned inquest into the circumstances attending the shooting of James Saunders, a dock labourer, on the 19th ult., in Patrick street, Limerick, was resumed yesterday in the city Courthouse by Mr. J. F. Barry, J.P., the Limerick City Coroner, and a jury.

Mr. J. A. Reardon (instructed by Mr. J. S. Gaffney, Crown Solicitor) appeared for the Crown, and Mr. Patrick Lynch, K.C. (instructed by Mr. J. B. Lynch, solicitor, Ennis), represented the next-of-kin.

Mr. Lynch, in stating the case, said that the circumstances that he would disclose in connection with the death of James Saunders revealed an appalling condition of affairs. Saunders was thirty-six years of age, and a widower, and was in apparently good health at the time that he met his death. Describing the dead man's movements that night, counsel said that he was in a picture house with a fellow worker, and left about half-past ten o'clock. They came along the Mall and into Parnell street, as far as Ellen street corner. Shortly after 11 o'clock Saunders was found dying, practically in his last agony, by some people at Ellen street; he was killed by rifle bullets. Apparently between 5 and 6 o'clock on the same evening two members of the Royal Irish Constabulary were shot in Mallow street. One of them was unfortunately fatally wounded, and died almost immediately, and the other, he was glad to say, was, as he was informed, recovering from his wounds. The jury might ask themselves what was the meaning of introducing this matter into an investigation of this kind, which had reference to a man who had lost his life at 11 o'clock at night. Unfortunately they knew in this country that within recent months when an attack was made with fatal result or otherwise on the Constabulary, the Constabulary force in the city or place where the attack was made came out at night, and under the cover of dark attacked the citizens, their houses, and property. The jury should fix that fact in their mind, in order to appreciate fully what was going on in this country.

Mr. Reardon, intervening, said this was an inquiry into the circumstances under which James Saunders lost his life, and any side matters, or matters not directly concerned with the death of the deceased man, were immaterial or irrelevant to the inquiry. He would strenuously object to the admission of evidence of that character. The Coroner was bound to rule out all such matters as irrelevant.

The Coroner—Certainly.

CASE FOR NEXT-OF-KIN.

Mr. Lynch, proceeding, said that the case for the next-of-kin was that James Saunders was shot by the police on the night of the 19th May. He quite agreed with Mr. Reardon that what happened in Mallow street between 5 and 6 o'clock was irrelevant. But what were the facts as to the movements of the police on the night of the 19th May? He would give evidence that in that part of the city, nearly opposite the Custom House, at 11 o'clock, five minutes before Saunders was shot, two men were attacked by the police, and one was followed into a hall, knocked down by a policeman with the butt of his rifle, and seriously injured in the hands, arms, and head.

Mr. Reardon said that the introduction of those matters was absolutely irrelevant to the inquiry. He objected to their being given as evidence, and if persisted in he would take no part in cross-examining the witnesses.

The Coroner—Mr. Lynch purports to give evidence of a transaction that took place at 11 o'clock opposite the Custom House. The deceased man was taken to Barrington's Hospital at 11.45, according to Dr. Dundon's testimony, and the Custom House is no more than 150 yards from where he was killed.

Mr. Reardon repeated that evidence that had nothing to do with the death of Saunders was not admissible, and if testimony of that kind were taken he would take no part in the inquiry.

Mr. Lynch—I can quite understand that. Continuing, counsel said that on the night that Saunders was shot several citizens of Limerick were shot by the police also and taken to Barrington's Hospital. He would prove that the houses of two merchants were burned, and when the fire brigade arrived to extinguish the flames they were fired at from William street Barrack, and when a complaint was telephoned to William street Barrack that the brigade were being fired at the policeman that replied shut him off and would give no information. He would further prove that on the night of the 19th May, when the policemen emerged from William street Barrack, they not only killed Saunders, but seriously wounded several citizens, women and men. Counsel would also establish that shots were fired into Ellen street, and after the firing three or four policemen passed up this thoroughfare and into William street Barrack. They saw the body lying on the footpath, and passed along without taking any notice, and apparently went in the direction of their barrack. These men were a disgrace to their uniform. When they would prove, he said in conclusion, that this man was killed by the police, he would like to know what answer the other side had to give to it.

DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE.

Dr. W. P. Dundon, house surgeon, Barrington's Hospital, was recalled, and, replying to Mr. Lynch, said that the man's death was caused by a rifle bullet which went right through the body. He had a Mrs. Russell a patient in hospital.

Mr. Reardon objected to the case of Mrs. Russell being introduced into the inquiry.

The Coroner ruled with the objection.

Mr. Lynch inquired of the witness how many people he had in hospital suffering from bullet wounds.

Mr. Reardon repeated his objection, and the Coroner said that the business of the jury and himself was to ascertain the cause of death of James Saunders and nothing else.

Mr. Reardon suggested that evidence of this kind was only prompted by one idea, and that was to create an atmosphere for throwing odium on the police.

The Coroner—I don't think so. How many are in hospital, doctor, suffering from wounds?

Dr. Dundon—Three persons were brought to hospital at the time Saunders was taken suffering from wounds.

THE FIRING OF SHOTS.

Mary Griffin, 18 Ellen street, stated that on the night of the 19th May at 11 o'clock while in her house she heard shots. She put out the light and went up stairs. Some men ran into the hall and told her the police were firing. After fastening the halldoor she went into her room, and putting her head through the window she saw a man lying on the flagway outside Mr. Quin's bar door, a little from Ellen street corner. After a time she went out and said a prayer.

By Mr. Reardon—The shots that she heard were rifle shots.

Francis Weldon said that he was standing under the electric light standard at the corner of Ellen street at 11 o'clock. Having heard firing, they ran into a house in Ellen street, and while there he looked through a window and saw a man lying on the flagway at the other side of the street. After a lapse of ten minutes he saw ten or fifteen policemen, some carrying rifles, come into the street. Two of the policemen stooped down and looked at the prostrate body, and passed on.

John Neville stated that while in his bedroom he heard the firing, and, after extinguishing the light, looked through the window. He heard heavy footsteps, and saw a number of policemen coming up Patrick street and turn into Ellen street. Some had rifles. They stood for a couple of minutes, and he heard one say, "Let go." A few of them went down Ellen street, and stopped as if looking at something. Having rejoined the others, they walked up Patrick street, and before starting one turned and pointed his rifle in the direction of Quin's bar.

Henry Fitzgerald, Moore's court, Clare street, deposed that while going home alone along The Mall he encountered a body of policemen coming from the direction of John street. There were three on the footway, and one of them, a young man, caught him by the throat.

Mr. Rearden repeated his objection.

Mr. Lynch said his object in producing the evidence was to show that the police ran amok, fired shots at random, and assaulted several citizens. Continuing, the witness said that he was struck three or four blows on the face by this policeman, while another policeman, with a bushy moustache, struck him with the butt end of his rifle in the ribs, and fractured two of them.

Harry O'Brien, an ex-soldier, who served with the 16th Division in France, and was wounded, said that he saw policemen coming up in formation across the road. One of them ran at him, and he faced into a hall-door. He got a blow of a rifle on the head from behind, and was knocked down. He got up and shouted that he had nothing to do with the police, that he was all right. The policeman was over him, and striking at his head with a rifle. In warding off the blows he received serious injuries to his hands. When the policeman was gone he crept into the hall, and heard a rifle bolt being put back, and immediately a bullet followed him into the hall.

A number of other witnesses were examined.

INJURED WOMAN'S EVIDENCE.

After the adjournment the Coroner and jury attended at Barrington's hospital, and took the evidence of Mrs. Bridget Russell. It was to the effect that she saw policemen at ten minutes past eleven, some standing, some on one knee, firing up towards McBirney's corner. Eight or nine shots were fired from Egan's corner in the direction of George street.

Michael O'Brien, James street, said that twelve shots were fired after him down Bridge street. Before that he was struck by a policeman with a rifle.

SPECIAL EXTRA.

GERMAN ELECTIONS.

FEARS OF A COUP.

A Reuter message, dated Berlin, Tuesday, says:—As the day for the holding of the general elections approaches, the tension amongst the various political parties is increasing, and accusations, denunciations, intrigues, and preparations to carry out a coup are hurled broadcast from right to left, and vice versa. The population of Berlin, on the other hand, appear to be taking events very calmly, and certainly at present there is no sign of any impending putsch. The election meetings of the various candidates are well attended, and occasionally are somewhat stormy, but on the whole there is no more exuberance than is customary at election time. The Press of all shades of opinion is still busy publishing scare stories of an impending coup by one party or other, but the Government appears now to be adopting the attitude that there is not likely to be a putsch, of any magnitude, and even if there is one, it will be able to suppress it by means of Reinhard's Doebentz Brigade, which is supposed to be composed of troops who are absolutely faithful to the Republic. Captain Rheinhard has told the Tageblatt that preparations for a coup are being made.

A later message says:—Herr Rausch, a high official of the Ministry of Defence, has tendered his resignation, and, in a letter to the Under Secretary, is said to have drawn a gloomy picture of the present state of affairs. "If things go on as at present," he says, "the Reichswehr will shortly become a German National Praetorian Guard."

AMERICAN SENATE AND ARMENIA.

A Reuter message, dated Washington, Tuesday, says:—The Senate to-day passed the resolution declining to accept the mandate for Armenia, by 52 votes to 23.

During the debate in the Senate on the Armenian mandate, some Irishwomen interrupted from the galleries. A reference to the ravages of the Hun drew from one the shout: "Why not remove the English Hun from Ireland?" Another recited the Pacifist refrain: "I didn't give my son to be a soldier." The demonstrators were conducted out by the ushers.

EMOTIONAL DIPLOMACY.

In a leading article, the Morning Post says—M. Millerand's chilling refusal to give any sort of countenance to the Krassin Conference is a warning that Mr. Lloyd George's latest diplomatic achievement threatens to produce a cleavage in what remains of the Supreme Council. To alienate France for the sake of Moscow riff-raff, which any day may come to an inglorious end, that would be a notable specimen of the diplomacy of the emotions. Mr. Lloyd George has taken the fatal plunge, and must abide by the consequences. But even at this late hour there are two questions which we venture to put to him. In the first place, is he satisfied that M. Krassin is a plenipotentiary armed with the necessary credentials; and, secondly, if so, is he satisfied that those who gave such credentials are masters in their own houses?

The Times Paris Correspondent says:—The surprise meeting between Mr. Lloyd George and M. Krassin came as a very unpleasant thunderbolt to the French, and there is not one Frenchman who does not feel that Mr. Lloyd George, by meeting M. Krassin before M. Millerand's protest had been received, has tried to steal a march upon French diplomacy. Everyone here imagined that Ireland was the chief reason for Mr. Lloyd George's visit to London. Now, most people perceive that it was Persia which brought him up, and his insistent desire to get into touch, even with a camouflaged representative of the Soviet Government, and thus pave the way for official recognition of the Bolshevist régime. Whatever advantages Mr. Lloyd George expects to obtain from his conversations, those advantages cannot outweigh the bad effect produced upon the French by his "morganatic" conversations with the Soviet. British policy in regard to the Soviety is looked upon here as being a still farther step away from France. That step has been taken at a singularly inopportune moment, and in circumstances which are bound to fill French minds with doubt and suspicion.

CHEAPER BUTTER.

The Times says—It is probable that Government butter will be sold retail at 2s. 8d. a lb. during the summer. A reduction in the present price of 3s. is now being considered by the Ministry of Food, and an announcement on the matter may be made before the end of the week. Butter is much more plentiful than it was a few weeks ago, and, as restrictions on purchases have been removed, with the abolition of rationing and registration, competitive selling has already brought down the price by a penny or twopence a lb. in some shops which work on small margins of profit. British and Irish butter, too, is being sold at 3s. a lb. consequent on the increased output. The low prices for home produce are seasonal, of course, and advances must be expected in the autumn. As the contemplated reduction in the price of imported butter is dependent on cheaper producers' prices abroad, this also may be of a temporary character.

DUBLIN LABOUR DISPUTES.

THE FISH TRADE DISPUTE.

Following the conference held under the auspices of the Ministry of Labour on Monday night between representatives of the Dublin Retail Fish and Poultry Merchants' Association and officials of the Transport Union, representing the men on strike, the employers met again yesterday to discuss the position. The Association has amended its offer of wages adjustment so far as vanmen and male shop assistants are concerned to a general increase of 3s. 6d. a week with a minimum wage of 40s. for vanmen and an increase of 5s., and a minimum of 35s. for shopmen, working hours to remain unchanged.

These offers have been rejected by the employés.

The employers also insist that any agreement reached shall be binding on both parties for a term of twelve months unless the Board of Trade returns show an advance in the cost of living. It is proposed that any trade dispute which may arise shall be submitted to a committee composed of representatives of employers and employés for settlement.

Mr. R. S. Webster, the Secretary of the Employers' Association, stated in conversation with our representative yesterday that the members of the Association presented a united front, and that no firms had, or would, come to a separate agreement with the employés.

In the meantime the strike proceeds, and none of the shops of the large fish and poultry dealers are open.

LAW CLERKS.

The President and Secretary of the Law Clerks' Union and officials of the Irish Clerical Workers' Union met the executive of the Irish Trades Union Congress yesterday with a view to obtaining the co-operation of other workers if no settlement is reached in the law clerks dispute this week. The proceedings were private, but it is understood that there are hopes of adjusting matters in the course of the next few days.

In the meantime the strikers are organising a street procession and demonstration outside the Four Courts this morning when the Trinity Law Term opens.

RAILWAY CLERKS.

A special delegates' conference of the railway clerks was held yesterday afternoon, when the provisional settlement arranged by the railway managers and clerks at the meeting on Saturday last was confirmed, one delegate only dissenting. The settlement provides greater facilities for arbitration on questions affecting the employment of station masters and clerks, all such questions being submitted to an Appeals Committee. If this Committee cannot come to an agreement the Irish Director-General of Transport will be asked to adjudicate. The classification of the various employés affected by the agreement is to be proceeded with at once, and the arrears of payment will be paid not later than the last pay day in this month.

EARNINGS OF SHIPPING COMPANIES.

Colonel Wilson, replying to Mr. Mills, in the House of Commons yesterday, said that, excluding vessels under 100 tons, there were about twenty and three-quarter million tons gross of shipping under the British flag when the war broke out, and a rough estimate of its total value was about £175,000,000, if £8 10s. were taken as an average value per ton. According to an analysis of the earnings of a number of shipping companies, both passenger and cargo, over a series of years, the average dividend, in the case of cargo boats over a period of sixteen years, from 1904 to 1919, was 9.15 per cent., and in the case of passenger lines over a period of fourteen years, from 1906 to 1919, it was 9.0[illegible] per cent.

PARLIAMENT.

THE NAVAL ESTIMATES.

OIL FUEL DEPOTS.

PENSIONS OF OFFICERS' WIDOWS.

When the House of Commons resumed [illegible] day after the Whitsuntide recess, the Speaker took the chair at 2.45 p.m.

The House went into Committee on the Navy Estimates.

On a vote for £5,205,000 for works, buildings and repairs at home and abroad,

Sir James Craig referred to the provision [illegible] fuel depôts, in respect of which a sum [illegible] £671,000 was allocated. These depôts, he [illegible] were consequent on the policy of constru[illegible] our newer ships with oil-consuming, instead of coal, boilers. A sum of £20,000 was put [illegible] for coastguard stations, which it was intend[illegible] maintain in full efficiency. The coastal [illegible] boat service was being developed, and improvements were being rapidly effected, but the f[illegible] of this type of vessel was an unknown quantity. Osborne Naval College would be closed do[illegible] about twelve months' time. With regard [illegible] sums provided for improving plant in the Royal dockyards, it had now been definitely dec[illegible] in addition to the two oil tankers now [illegible] built for Government services, to provide [illegible] orders for work, so as to reduce the numb[illegible] discharges in all the dock yards.

THE REDUCTION MOVED.

Commander Kenworthy moved the redu[illegible] of the vote by a million pounds as a pr[illegible] against what, he said, he considered to be [illegible] unduly large amount of the estimate. Fur[illegible] he thought that every skilled builder ough[illegible] be employed in building houses. We had [illegible] naval bases than were necessary. This prop[illegible] reduction could be effected without red[illegible] the efficiency of the Navy by one iota.

Commander Bellairs said that the detail[illegible] the vote depended on policy, and he hoped [illegible] the Imperial Defence Committee would [illegible] meet and consider what was to be the [illegible] policy of the country. Was the Fleet co[illegible] trated at home, or were we to have a [illegible] Pacific Fleet? Now that there was no me[illegible] in the North Sea we must have an outlo[illegible] the Pacific.

Admiral Sir R. Hall said that he thought [illegible] all matters of naval policy should be left t[illegible] discretion of the Defence Committee, and [illegible] discussed in the House.

Mr. Hogge protested against the idea tha[illegible] House should abandon all questions of polic[illegible] the Defence Committee. He complained [illegible] members criticised the extravagance of the [illegible]vernment outside the House, but were afra[illegible] come down there and face the music [illegible] Ministers put forward inflated estimates [illegible] suggested that too much was proposed t[illegible] spent on oil fuel stations at the present [illegible] and that the Admiralty could with pe[illegible] safety cut down these estimates.

MR. WALTER LONG.

Mr. Walter Long said that the Admiralty [illegible] comed honest criticism, but he was astoni[illegible] when they were attacked for want of econ[illegible] on this vote. There was no vote every item [illegible] which had been more carefully examined by [illegible] Board than this vote. The original estima[illegible] under this head had been enormously cut do[illegible] If the Admiralty had erred at all they had err[illegible] on the side of too rigorously cutting down t[illegible] estimates. He agreed with Admiral Hall th[illegible] there were certain matters of policy which cou[illegible] not be discussed on the floor of the House. [illegible] whole series of questions of future policy we[illegible] now before the Imperial Defence Committee f[illegible] examination, and such declarations of policy [illegible] could be made would be made when the Admiralty saw their way clearly. In his opinion the Admiralty were not spending a farthing more than they ought to on oil fuel stations. Every ship turned out now was oil-driven. Oil was the fuel of the future, and our present command of supplies was very small. If we had to be dependent on oil for our ships, surely it was the bounden duty of the Admiralty to see that our storage was such that it was impossible for our ships to be deficient in supplies wherever they might be throughout the world. He was prepared, on behalf of the Admiralty and of the Government, to take up a firm position on this matter, because he regarded it as the most important question of the moment. In regard to the criticism of the continued expenditure on Rosyth, anyone who saw the magnificent accommodation there now would agree that it would be an act of wild extravagance to abandon Rosyth as a naval base.

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy said that if members were not to be allowed to criticise the naval policy of the Government, then Heaven help the country. The Unionist Party used to be very keen on the subject.

The amendment was negatived, and the vote agreed to.

PROPOSED ESTIMATES COMMITTEE.

On a vote of £3,290,000 for various miscellaneous effective services,

Sir Donald Maclean asked for information on a number of details, remarking that the House was doing work which an Estimates Committee ought to do before the estimates came to be considered by the House.

Colonel Burn asked that fishing grounds should be cleared of wrecks, or that the whereabouts of wrecks should be indicated by buoys.

Lieutenant-Commander Kenworthy protested against the money spent on naval missions to various parts of Europe.

Sir James Craig said that the setting up of an Estimates Committee was a question of policy for the Government to decide.

The vote was agreed to.

On a vote of £4,386,900 for naval and marine pensions and allowances,

Sir Thomas Bramsdon and Admiral Sir Reginald Hall called attention to the inadequacy of the pensions for widows of officers, which averaged only £55 yearly.

Lady Astor supported the appeal, remarking that the widows were suffering acutely. They only desired common, simple justice, and it was the duty of the House to see that they got it.

Sir James Craig said that the question of pensions had been reviewed so recently that it was impossible to hold out any hope of increased pensions beyond what had already been suggested by the Leader of the House.

The vote was agreed to, and progress was reported.

The report of other naval votes was agreed to.

INCREASED POSTAL RATES.

Mr. Illingworth, replying to Mr. Hogge, said that it was hoped to introduce the bill for increasing postal rates next week.

Asked why the public had to pay twopence to-day, the Postmaster-General said that legislation was not necessary to alter the penny post. It was done by warrant.

Mr. Hogge said that he would raise the question on the adjournment.

TAXATION OF WAR WEALTH.

Mr. Baldwin, replying to Mr. Charles Palmer, said that it was hoped to announce the decision of the Cabinet in the course of a few days in regard to the taxation of war wealth.

THE NEW TREASURY BONDS.

Mr. Baldwin informed Mr. Holmes that the amount of the new Treasury Bonds which had been purchased was £5,025,000. This represented, broadly speaking, subscriptions up to May 22. The total was disappointing, though the number of individual subscribers was good.

The House adjourned at 8.30 p.m.

AMERICAN SUPREME COURT AND PROHIBITION.

The Washington Supreme Court yesterday, says a Reuter's telegram, held that an amendment to the Federal Constitution cannot be submitted for ratification to a referendum vote in those States having provisions for the taking of a referendum, and has, therefore, set aside the decrees of the Ohio Court favouring the submission of the prohibition and women's suffrage amendments to the voters.

LIMERICK DOCKER'S DEATH.

street, and the fire brigade were called to extinguish it. Two shots were fired from William street. The witness ran to Cruise's Hotel, and telephoned to William street Police Barracks about the shooting. He gave his name, but received no information, and was shut off.

Mr. Lynch said he had other witnesses of the escapade, and he asked if the Coroner considered their evidence admissible.

The Coroner said that the fire that occurred at Daly's had nothing to say to the cause of James Saunders' death.

Mr. Lynch—Then I close.

THE CROWN CASE.

Mr. Reardon said that, appearing for the Crown, he had endeavoured to make it clear from the beginning of the inquiry that they were only concerned with ascertaining the cause of the death of James Saunders. He had protested from the beginning as strongly as he could, and still protested, against the introduction and reception of evidence as to matters which were alleged to have occurred earlier upon the evening when this tragedy took place. That, he suggested, would not assist them in the slightest degree in coming to the conclusion as to what caused death, but was introduced for the purpose of blackening the character of the police, to create a hostile demonstration against the police, and to expose them to even greater danger of assassination than they were at present exposed. For these reasons he vehemently protested against the introduction of extraneous matters. The court could not shut its eyes to the fact that the police in this city, as well as elsewhere, for months past, and at the present day, were in a position of the most appalling danger. Every honest man knew that they had been and were being murdered from day to day in open daylight, in the dark, in the country and in the city streets, and in their barracks. These were notorious facts, and counsel suggested that the jury should not shut their eyes to them, realising as they were bound to do the position that the police were placed in. No man could withhold from the police his admiration for their extraordinary devotion to duty. It should be well understood by everybody by this time that the police no longer would be allowed to remain the targets of the assassin.

THE PROTECTION OF POLICE.

The police were entitled to protect themselves, and would protect themselves, as they were bound to do, and the sooner it was realised that when the police were fired at they were entitled to return the fire, and would return the fire, the better it would be for everybody concerned. When the police were wantonly attacked, as they were on this night, they were entitled to return the fire of their would-be murderers. On this occasion they returned the fire, and if innocent people were in the streets and suffered it was their own risk. Counsel said that he refused to examine any of the witnesses whose evidence did not bear on the cause of death and was immaterial. Having alluded to the shooting in Mallow street early in the evening, Mr. Reardon commented on the fact that no person came forward to implicate the cowardly assassin or assassins who shot, with fatal result in one case, two police sergeants in that public thoroughfare. There were two police patrols out on this night of the 19th May, and one went out at a quarter to 11 o'clock, and while proceeding through Bank place it was fired at from the Mardyke and returned the fire. The patrol then returned by way of Patrick street to William street; and the other patrol, a motor car patrol, in charge of District Inspector Egan, left a little after 11 o'clock for Ballinacurra, and returned, after making a circuit of the city, about half-past 12 o'clock. So long as the present lawlessness went unpunished, the police must and were bound to protect themselves, and to take every reasonable step to do so, they had been obliged to arm themselves with carbines and revolvers in the public streets. That was a dreadful state of affairs, and as long as they were open to attack they would use their firearms in defence. If the Constabulary were called upon to protect themselves on the night of the 19th May, and if one of them killed James Saunders, they were not entitled to be impeached for it, and should not be impeached.

EVIDENCE OF THE PATROL.

Constable J. F. Clifford deposed to being a member of the patrol that left William street Barrack at 10.45 on the night in question. When the advance party got into Bank place what appeared to be eight or ten revolver shots rang out from the Mardyke. The police lay down and fired three shots in return, and when the whistle to cease fire went the patrol reformed and went back to William street, without halting in Patrick street.

The witness, in cross-examination, declined to say who was in charge of the patrol, and how many formed the patrol, the formation of the patrol, and who was the barrack orderly that night. He was advised not to answer these questions by his counsel.

In reply to the Coroner, Mr. Reardon said that he took full responsibility for the constable declining to answer these four questions.

Mr. Lynch said that such an admission reduced the process of the Court to a farce. He asked the Coroner to commit the constable.

Mr. Reardon—I advise you, sir, not to accept that responsibility.

The Coroner said that, if he had the power he would not hesitate to commit the constable, but he had no such power.

Mr. Reardon said that the reason for instructing the constable not to answer the questions was apparent. They all knew that policemen were murdered in Cork after an inquest of this kind.

Mr. Lynch—That is not a fact; you know it is a lie, and a statement of that kind is a scandalous abuse of your position as a barrister.

Mr. Reardon—What I am instructed upon is a fact.

Mr. Lynch—You have been instructed falsely, and there is not a word of truth in your assertion.

Mr. Reardon, in reply to the foreman, said that he would persist in the instructions that he had given to Constable Clifford being observed by his other witnesses.

Afterwards Constable M. Murphy, also a member of the patrol, corroborated the evidence of the last witness, and, in cross-examination, refused to disclose who was in charge of the patrol or who formed it.

District Inspector Marrinan said that he was in the barracks when he heard the quick crackling of revolver shots from the direction of Bank place. Almost immediately he heard three rounds fired, and next morning he checked the ammunition served out to the patrol, and found three rounds missing.

In reply to Mr. Lynch, he declined to give the names of those in charge of the patrol, or to produce any public record or any document relating to the movements of the police that night, or any other night.

District Inspector Egan having given evidence relative to the examination of the patrol's ammunition, counsel at both sides briefly addressed the jury.

THE VERDICT.

After an absence of three-quarters of an hour they returned the following verdict:—"James Saunders met his death by a rifle bullet fired on the night of the 19th May by the police, and we consider it murder by the police for firing into the street without any provocation on the part of the citizens. We condemn the action of the authorities in refusing to give evidence that would throw proper light on the inquiry, and express our entire sympathy with the relatives of the deceased."

DECONTROL OF COAL.

At a meeting in London yesterday of representatives of the Coal Merchants' Federation of Great Britain, a resolution was passed accepting, subject to important qualifications, the outlined proposals from the Coal Mines Department for the decontrol of the industry. It was stated that it was probable that the decontrol scheme would come into operation within the next ten days.

INTERMEDIATE EDUCATION.

NEEDS OF THE TEACHERS.

THE BOARD'S PROTEST.

We have received the following statement from the Board of Intermediate Education:—

The Board of Intermediate Education have during the past year, with ever-increasing stress, repeatedly called the attention of the Government to the urgent necessity of immediately providing increased funds for the purposes of secondary education in Ireland. At their meeting on the 26th May the following resolution was passed unanimously:—

That, in view of the present crisis in Irish secondary education arising from the inability of the schools to provide for teachers a salary even approaching the necessary minimum, and the consequent danger of a general failure in the supply of secondary teachers in Ireland, the Board urge insistently upon the Government the pressing necessity of an immediate additional grant to enable the schools to augment the salaries of assistant teachers. Further, the Board hold that it is just, as well as pressingly necessary, that the sums announced in Parliament to be available for Irish education as the equivalent of the additional grants voted for education in Great Britain during the past two years and the current year should forthwith be applied to Irish educational purposes, without prejudice to future legislation.

This resolution has been forwarded to the Irish Government. Strong representations have also been made as to the deplorable condition of the assistant teachers in secondary schools. According to the last report on the distribution of the teachers' salaries grant, of the 1,349 lay teachers in these schools only 100 were in receipt of a salary of £200 per annum or upwards, and of these, 31 were heads of schools, while about 30 per cent. of the whole number of lay teachers were in receipt of salaries of less than £100 per annum. The teachers are in a state of the direst poverty, and are unable to make ends meet on their inadequate salaries, while the schools cannot get fresh teachers, and in many cases cannot even retain the services of their present teachers, although in order to raise salaries many of them have run into debt.

The Board further point out that this situation is nothing short of a national disgrace, when the fact is considered that, on the accepted basis of equivalent grants, large sums are due from the Treasury for Irish education. A definite promise was made in the House of Commons by the then Solicitor-General as regards secondary education, that the additional Parliamentary grant first voted in 1918 was to be an equivalent and not a fixed grant. Although the attention of the Irish Government has been repeatedly called by the Board to this promise, they have not as yet received one penny as the corresponding equivalent of the large increases made for secondary education in England, nor have they ever received any explanation as to why this definite promise has not been fulfilled. The Board point out that the redemption of this promise would involve the payment to them of an additional sum of about £140,000 during the present year. The justice of their claim to this and also to a sum equivalent to their administrative expenses is practically admitted by the provisions of the Irish Education Bill at present before Parliament.

ASTRONOMICAL NOTES FOR JUNE.

(FROM OUR ASTRONOMICAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Short nights, twilight, and Summer Time reduce star-gazing facilities for the average amateur astronomer almost to vanishing point in June. The principal phenomenon of interest this month is the unusual visibility of the planet Mercury. He will be at his greatest elongation east of the Sun on the 29th. From the 16th to the 22nd he sets within a minute or two of 10 p.m., or about one hour and three-quarters after the Sun. During the last ten days of June he is nearly in a line with Castor and Pollux.

Venus, being in superior conjunction on July 3rd, is out of sight. Mars is now rapidly increasing his distance, but some of his surface details will still be within reach of powerful telescopes till the end of the month. By the middle of June he is one entire magnitude less bright than he was in the middle of April. During the first half of the month he remains within a few minutes of the same place in Right Ascension, but owing to his looped path at this time he shifts about a degree further south, drawing that much nearer to the bright star, Spica. After the 15th he moves away more and more rapidly eastward. Jupiter sets near midnight on the 1st, at 10.18 p.m. on the 30th. Saturn three-quarters of an hour after him. Both these planets must, therefore, be observed, if at all, as early as twilight will admit of.

THE MOON:—
Full Moon on June 1st, at 5.18 p.m.
Last Quarter on June 9th, at 6.59 p.m.
New Moon on June 16th, at 1.41 p.m.
First Quarter on June 23rd, at 6.50 a.m.

The Moon will pass not quite a degree north of Mars on the 25th, at 3.45 a.m. At that time the Moon's centre will be rather nearer the planet to the north than Spica is to the south. An occultation of Mars will be visible from parts of the Southern Hemisphere. The Summer Solstice occurs at 5.40 p.m. on the 21st, the Sun then reaching his greatest distance from the Equator to the North.

THE STARS:—Little can be seen of the starry host at Midsummer in British latitudes. Only the leading lights are at all conspicuous. At midnight on June 1st, Scorpio, Ophiuchus, and Hercules are on the meridian south of the zenith. The great red star, Antares, is low down, a little west of the south point. The three white first magnitudes, Vega, Deneb and Altair, in Lyra, Cygnus, and Aquila respectively, form a wide triangle in the eastern sky. Arcturus is the most conspicuous star to the west. Spica, accompanied by Mars (a strangely assorted couple, the maiden of peace and the god of war) are low in the W.S.W. Regulus is about to set W.N.W. The Plough is descending west of the Pole, and the bright star low down nearly North is Capella. Pegasus and Aquarius are rising.

PARENTS' NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL UNION.

A meeting of the Parents' National Educational Union was held on Monday at 7 Leinster street, Dublin, when Mr. W. Lucas Scott, M.A. (in the chair), explained that its object was to provide a common meeting ground for parents, teachers, and others interested in education, and all who regarded the formation of character as of greater importance to the individual than the acquisition of knowledge. He pointed out that the activities of the union in Dublin would comprise the holding of meetings, at which papers, followed by discussions, would be read. There would also be held a musical meeting for the children of members once each term, and at it a paper would be read dealing with the life and works of some composer, and selections would be played by the children from his or her works. The first of those papers to be read would be by Mrs. Starkie, and would treat of some early French composers.

Professor W. F. Trench, Litt.D., contributed a paper entitled "Education at a Girls' School 120 years ago." Having described the school programme as it was generally drawn up for young ladies' academies in the period dealt with, he said that the materials from which he had obtained his information were a mass of unpublished manuscripts, and comprised letters which passed between a girl's father and her schoolmistress, and between the girl herself and her father, and also the girl's diaries and private memoranda. The lecturer said that the perusal of the correspondence showed that the education received must necessarily be a strong influence on the formation of character.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

INTERMEDIATE SUPERINTENDENTSHIPS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I have read with interest the letters of Mr. O'Connor and "Superintendent" on the subject of the remuneration of Intermediate superintendents. This is at present entirely inadequate. That the present purchasing value of the pound is only about seven shillings is a point completely ignored by the Intermediate Education Board. The enormous change in prices has apparently not yet come under the notice of the Board, as the allowance for car hire per day during the examinations is still the same as in 1913. The superintendents are drawn from the ranks of the secondary school teachers, at all times poorly paid, and slow to complain.—Yours, etc.,

"TEACHER."

THE NEEDS OF BELMULLET.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—A few weeks ago you were good enough to publish a letter of mine as to the then state of famine in Belmullet, Co. Mayo, owing to the absence of communication by sea from both Sligo and Westport. Recognising the gravity of the situation at the time, the Government, after much pressure, reinstated the "Tartar" service from Sligo, but there is no guarantee that the service will not be discontinued at any moment, and that there will not be a repetition of what, if it had lasted a little longer, would have been a veritable catastrophe.

My object in troubling you again is to ask that the authorities will at once confer with the local people and come to some arrangement whereby a permanent connection with the town will be established. A railway is, of course, the ultimate remedy, but its construction would take some years, so that there must be some expedient in the interval, and some practical step should be taken without delay in the manner indicated or otherwise. Anyway, the isolated position of Belmullet must be kept before the public, and it is hoped that the people of the more favoured portions of the country will co-operate in some organised form—say, through the All-Ireland Town Tenants' League and the Irish Industrial Development Association (the former has done a good deal already, which we gratefully acknowledge)—to see that there is not a recurrence of the recent close approach to loss of life from starvation in that district.

The Local Government Board is now put forward, instead of the Board of Works, to run the service—to show, it is suspected, that it is a sort of charity or relief measure to last only for a few months, until, in distress-time parlance, "the potato crop comes in." The statutory obligation for the upkeep of this service—Railways (Ireland) Act, 1896, c. 34, sec. 9—rests with the Board of Works, not the Local Government Board, and the people do not ask for assistance in either of these eleemosynary forms. They claim, instead, the provision made by Act of Parliament to meet cases such as Belmullet, where funds for the construction of a railway were not granted.—Yours, etc.,

CRICKET.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY v. DERBYSHIRE.

TRINITY WIN BY SIX WICKETS.

The weather underwent a pleasant change for the resumption of the match between Dublin University and Derbyshire in the College Park yesterday. The light was much better and the atmosphere more genial, and, with the band of the Wiltshire Regiment discoursing lively airs, the large crowd had their enjoyment assured. Trinity, who had scored 190 overnight, had three wickets in hand, and 28 runs were added before the innings closed for 218, with the home team 86 runs on. Ward, who was not out with 9 to his credit, carried his bat for 31, which included five 4's, three of which he scored off Cadman on resuming. The last-named took 3 wickets for 76, Bestwick 2 for 21, Storer 2 for 28, and Morton 2 for 52. Derbyshire restarted with L. Oliver and Cadman. The first-named should have been taken at point off Ward's first delivery, while in the same over Cadman was missed behind the wicket. A separation was effected with the score at 16, when Cadman was bowled by Ward for 8. J. Chapman was next associated with Oliver, who, five runs later, was clean bowled by Ward. A little later Morton, playing forward to a slow delivery by Ward, was held at mid-off by Price. Fifty was sent up after an hour and a quarter, but, with only six runs added, Chapman was held at mid-on by Williams, off Allen. Wills relieved Ward, and off his first ball Wild was taken behind the wicket for 40, after a nice, free innings. Jackson followed, but was held at leg by Williams, with only four to his credit, and Storer did little better, for he had only hit up six when he played forward, and gave an easy chance to Price at mid-off off Wills. In the next over Wills had Bestwick stumped after he had scored a single. Beet was soon afterwards taken at mid-on by Williams, off Allen, after he had scored 26, a useful and steadily-gathered compilation. This brought the visitors' innings to a close after three hours and a quarter's batting, for 150. Trinity wanting only 65 runs to win. Wills and Ward were the most successful bowlers, the first-named taking 4 wickets for 18 and Ward 4 for 40.

Kelly and Rollins started the second venture for Trinity to the bowling of Morton and Cadman. The partnership did not last long before Rollins was taken at first slip by Cadman, off Morton. Power filled the vacancy, and the Trinity captain looked like getting set when he got a ball off Cadman to the boundary and another immediately afterwards for 3. He had, however, only scored 11 when he got in front of a delivery from Morton, the second wicket being down for 19 runs. Heaslip followed, and Kelly batting with confidence, 30 was soon signalled. The fielding was very keen, and runs were always difficult to obtain. Kelly was stumped by Beet, after he had scored 21, the third wicket being down for 47, and the 50 was sent up after a little over an hour's batting. Hammond was dismissed for a single, being bowled off his pads by Morton. Immediately on Price going in he drove Morton to the boundary, and soon afterwards a 4 hit by the same batsman put the issue beyond doubt, Trinity winning by six wickets. Morton had taken 3 wickets for 35 and Cadman 1 for 29. Score:—

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE v. WARWICKSHIRE.

VICTORY OF WARWICKSHIRE.

Warwickshire, who were 213 on overnight, with six wickets in hand, added 114 in an hour and a quarter for the loss of the outstanding wickets at Northampton yesterday. Waddy had the misfortune to be struck down with lumbago when he had made 52 in sixty-five minutes. Quaife (63), who was fifth out, played a very cautious innings of just over two hours. Badly as Northamptonshire did in their first venture, their second display at the wicket was even worse. Calthorpe bowling to such effect that he had captured four wickets for 11 in 55 minutes before lunch, when Northants had lost half their wickets for 41. After lunch the outstanding wickets were disposed of for the addition of 27, Calthorpe capturing his wickets at a shade under five for each. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Warwickshire	181	283
Northamptonshire	137	68

NOTTS v. MIDDLESEX.

After a remarkably keen and interesting day's cricket, the match between these counties at Trent Bridge ended yesterday in victory for Notts by 151 runs. The wicket always favoured bowlers to a marked degree, and Middlesex fared very disastrously when play was resumed, Haig (19) and Mann (11) alone showing any capacity to cope with the bowling of Barratt and Richmond. This pair equally divided six wickets, the former's contributing 16 runs, and the latter's six. When Notts went in again the leading Middlesex bowlers did not seem able to get the same life out of the pitch as their opponents had done, and Notts, by taking some risks, knocked up 144 before the closure was declared at four o'clock. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Nottinghamshire	213
Middlesex	98	108 for 7 wkts.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY v. SOMERSET.

This match at Cambridge yesterday resulted in a draw. The University declared their innings closed with seven wickets in hand, leaving Somerset to get 330 runs to win in a little more than three hours, but not only were the runs not obtained, but the University failed to dismiss the county batsmen in the time. Bayana (115) and Braund (35) spoiled the University's possibility of success, while Jackson added 46 to the county score. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Cambridge	315	*216 (for 3 wkts.)
Somerset	202	250 (for 6 wkts.)

*Innings declared.

LANCASHIRE v. SUSSEX.

Lancashire gained an easy victory over Sussex at Old Trafford yesterday by the convincing margin of ten wickets. The weather was fine, but the wicket never recovered from the soaking it received during the week-end, and runs were always difficult to obtain. Less than eight hours' actual play sufficed to complete the match, and enable Lancashire to record their fourth victory of the season. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Sussex	102	97
Lancashire	172	28 for no wkt.

LEICESTERSHIRE v. KENT.

Kent won their match yesterday by 164 runs. There was not a very material difference in the relative positions of the sides when the half-way stage was reached. By the end of Monday, however, Kent had strengthened their hold on the game, being 86 runs on, with nine wickets in hand. Continuing yesterday, Collins and Seymour raised the total from 48 to 90 before Seymour left. Woolley and Beeching made the proceedings exceptionally lively for half-an-hour, 59 runs being added. Altogether, Woolley (74) was batting ninety minutes, and besides a 6 he hit six 4's. Woolley was ninth man out, and with the fall of this wicket the innings was declared. Fairservice had the excellent analysis of seven wickets for 44 runs. Set with 262 runs to win, the Leicestershire batting from the beginning went all to pieces, and the match was finished by 4.30. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Kent	198	*223 for 9
Leicestershire	160	97

*Innings declared.

TASMANIA AND THE M.C.C. TOUR.

DUBLIN AND DISTRICT.

SUGAR RECORDS.—Thomas Kavanagh, 160 North King street, was fined 40/- and costs by Mr. Lupton in the Northern Police Court yesterday for failing to keep records of his retail dealings in sugar. The defendant said that he had his books in order and did not think that he had to enter the names of retail customers. Mr. J. W. Davis, solicitor, prosecuted.

RETURN OF RE-NAMED L. AND N.W.R. STEAMER.—Having been absent from the regular Dublin and Holyhead express service of the London and North-Western Company since requisitioned by the Admiralty in 1914, one of the two surviving express steamers, the ss. Scotia returned to the North Wall yesterday morning, under the new name of Menevia.

CONCERT AT MOLESWORTH HALL.—A concert will be held in connection with St. Ann's Church in the Molesworth Hall to-morrow (Thursday) evening, 3rd June, at 8 o'clock. The artistes include Miss Nora Hill, Miss Mildred Attwood, Miss Vera Wilkinson, and Miss Dorothy Stokes. Miss Eileen Braid and Messrs. J. R. Morgan, J. Gee, and L. Braid will play the accompaniments.

DUBLIN DOCKMASTER'S DEATH.—The flags on the offices of the Port and Docks Board and on the various dockside buildings in Dublin were flown half-mast high yesterday, as a sign of mourning for the death of Captain Michael J. Gill, Dockmaster at the Custom House Dock, which occurred on Monday last. Captain Gill was formerly Master of the British and Irish Steam Packets plying between Dublin and cross-Channel ports, and was a very popular port official.

FALSE FIRE ALARMS.—A great deal of annoyance has been caused to the Dublin Fire Brigade during the past two days by false fire alarms. Shortly before 10 o'clock last night a fire alarm was operated at Grafton street, and the brigade went out, but did not find any fire. At 2.25 the previous morning the alarm at the corner of George's street and Dame street was used, and at 3.43 the alarm at North King street was sounded, although no fire took place in either locality.

A REMINDER OF EASTER WEEK, 1916.—The centre platform of O'Connell Bridge is at present being opened up, and exposes the River Liffey underneath. The opening also exposes twin gas mains carrying supplies to the North side of the city. One of the mains, it will be remembered, exploded during the Sinn Fein Dublin rising of Easter Week, 1916, and blew a big hole in the centre of the bridge. New pipes are, it appears, at present being laid to replace the older "tubes."

ARRANGEMENTS FOR DUBLIN TO GLASGOW PASSENGERS.—The Burns Line of steamers from the North Wall to Glasgow, which runs a sailing to the Clyde from Dublin this evening, draws attention to the fact that no passengers will be carried on board the boat, which is intended for cargo purposes, and has no accommodation for cross-Channel passengers. The Laird Line runs a Dublin to Greenock and Glasgow sailing from the North Wall to-morrow evening, and a passenger and goods, etc., steamer of the Burns Line is arranged to sail from Dublin on Saturday evening direct to Glasgow, and without calling at Greenock.

DUBLIN CORPORATION.—A monthly meeting of Dublin Corporation has been summoned for Monday next, when resolutions are to be proposed declaring that no woman shall be disqualified from holding any appointment under the Council, and that women be eligible to compete at all future examinations on the same terms and conditions as men; asking for a return of all unoccupied houses in the city, for their inspection and for a report as to their condition and suitability for human habitation; requesting Mr. De Valera to use his influence to secure Mr. James Larkin's release, and calling upon the elected representatives of the people of Ireland to use their best endeavours to give effect to the resolution.

DUBLIN TECHNICAL SCHOOLS.—The annual report issued by the Technical Instruction Committee of the Dublin Corporation states that during the session, which commenced in September last, 4,721 students were enrolled, representing an increase of 1,476 for the previous year. The Midland Great Western Railway Company proposed to offer facilities to employés who were students at the school to attend day, instead of evening, classes, and the Railway Workman's Institute offered scholarships to the amount of £30 for competition amongst those students. The Day Apprenticeship School opened in January, and the attendance and progress of the pupils gave evidence of the wisdom and utility of the scheme. In connection with this school 110 scholarships were awarded.

CHILD NEGLECT.—In the Northern Police Court, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Lupton, K.C., Patrick Higgins, occupying a room in 1 Foley street, was prosecuted by the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children for neglecting his four children aged respectively 8, 6, 4½ years, and 7 months, and the case was adjourned generally, an order being made that the defendant contribute £3 a week for the support of the home. It was stated by Inspector Browne that he found the children poorly clad. There was no food in the home, no fire, and no bed-covering for the children. The room was dirty and in disorder, and the husband, who was drunk, was quarrelling with his wife. The wife was sober. Mr. J. W. Davis, solicitor, appeared for the Society.

RINGSEND YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—On Saturday evening, at a large gathering of members and friends, Mr. C. H. Stewart, who was Hon. Secretary of the Ringsend Y.M.C.A. for twenty-five years, was presented by Mr. W. H. Fry with a gentleman's fitted bag and a framed photograph of the Committee as a token of appreciation of his long and valuable services. Letters of apology were read from Lord Kinnaird, President of the British Y.M.C.A. (sending his warmest wishes); Sir W. Fry, Rev. C. H. Crookshanks, M.A.; Mrs. Duckett, Mr. Cochran, and Mr. T. Ball, Rev. Mr. Crockett, Messrs. W. M. Forsyth, J.P.; S. H. Little, and T. Nelson paid a well-merited tribute to the work of Mr. Stewart. Mr. Wright, M.B.E., National Secretary for Ireland, delivered an address, and Mr. R. Poynton handed Mr. Fry two gifts from the members for Mr. R. Pullen, Hon. Treasurer, and Mr. W. Jones, Assistant Hon. Secretary. Mr. Pullen and Mr. Jones suitably acknowledged the gifts. A musical programme was provided by Miss Forsyth, Miss Brock, Mrs. McCamley, Miss McCamley, Mr. J. B. Taylor, and Mr. H. Lucas.

FINANCIAL NEWS

DUBLIN STOCK EXCHANGE.

SEVERE FALL IN RAILS. FUNDS IRREGULAR. MARCONIS HARDER. DUNLOP RUBBER ORDINARY STRONG.

There was still sale pressure in certain directions on 'Change yesterday, notably the Railway market, but prices otherwise showed ordinary fluctuations. The Funds were less firm, but with some irregular features. Banks were quiet, with occasional support. Guinness issues were supported quietly, without scarcely altering prices. Marconi shares closed firmer, and Dundalk steam was bid for some points under last price. Home Rails were still slipping badly. Dunlop Rubber Ord. show firm strength, with rather an upward tendency. Findlater 4 p.c. Debs. sold at half-price. Textiles scarcely moved, and Oil shares failed to quote.

The feature in the Funds was the quotation 47⅞ x.d. for Consols, which shows a rise of the 12s. 6d. dividend. Funding Loan, however, fell 1¼ to 69, and War Loan 5 p.c. ½ to 86¼, but War Loan 4 p.c. improved ¼ to 96½.

In Banks Munsters were unaltered at 6½, while Nationals were bid up ¼ to 16¾ without getting a share.

Dealing in Breweries was confined to Guinness Ord. and Pref. The former repeated 33¼, and the latter rose 1/16 to 9¼.

In Steam Dundalks were bid for at 20, compared with 23 last quoted.

Marconis closed firm. The Ord. rose 1s. 10½d. to 67s. 6d., after earlier dealing at 66s. 3d. Canadians hardened 4½d. to 10s. 6d.

Home Railways presented a very gloomy appearance. Great Northern fell ½ to 61, the Pref. 9 to 50 to 53, the Guaranteed 2 to 50 to 54 nominally, Great Southern 1 to 54, and the Debs. 3 to 60.

In Trams Provincial Ord. remain nominally flat at 15s., 16s.

As regards Dunlops Parent Tyre Ord. fell 3d. to 20s. 9d. The price in London was called round about par. Dunlop Rubber Ord. were quite good, and closed 1/16 higher at 7¼, after all offered less had been absorbed.

Bakery and Drapery shares were featureless.

Among Manufacturing shares Coats fell 9d. to 57s. 6d., while Spinners repeated 67s. 6d., and Hely's Pref. 15s. 3d. Lever Bros.' "A" Pref. rallied 9d. to 19s. 3d.

In Trading, etc., dealing took place in Findlater Debs., which fell 8s. 6d. to 50s., and Imperial Tobacco 3d. to 50s. 6d.

In other business done Todd Burns' Ord., new, quoted 20s. 3d.

LOWER STOCKS. INVESTMENT SECURITIES CONTINUE INACTIVE.

PRICE MOVEMENTS MOSTLY AGAINST HOLDERS.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Taken as a whole Stock markets presented a rather more animated appearance. This was due to a revival in Oil shares and certain Industrial issues. In other sections, however, and especially in what are known as the investment departments, there was very little of interest. Business remained on a small scale, and the general trend of prices was in a downward direction. S[illegible] the disappointment was expressed regarding fresh purchases of the Funds, and a sagging tendency was noticeable in prices. The new Corporation issues, however, came in for some attention. Scrip of the Kent Loan was dealt in round ⅛ premium, hardening afterwards to ½ premium. It is expected that the Essex Stock will be dealt in on the same basis. In view of this, the Middlesex portion, which changed hands on the previous day at up to 1 premium, was pressed for sale, some operators seeing an opportunity for a small turn in selling the Middlesex Stock and buying the Kent. The quotation, therefore, soon receded to ½ premium.

LONDON STOCKS QUIET, EXCEPT OILS.

Business on the Stock Exchange remained disappointingly small, and general conditions were dull and hesitating. The big disbursements had little perceptible tonic effect, even among gilt-edged and kindred descriptions, and there was an evident inclination to await Parliamentary developments in regard to the proposed war wealth levy. The latest statements that the Government has decided against the proposal were heard with satisfaction, but reports in this connection have been so contradictory that little credence is attached to them, and insiders await the official pronouncement. A colourless tone was relieved by a blaze up in Oils at mid-session, under the lead of Burmahs. The afternoon in this department was animated, and, while closing levels were not quite the best, net changes were nearly always favourable, while Burmahs held a rise of nearly 2 points to the accompaniment of bonus talk. The fulfilment of hopes that the whole of the Three-county Housing Loans had been subscribed helped the undertone to some extent, and the Middlesex scrip was quoted at a slight premium. There was little business to test values among Colonial Loans, which seesawed within narrow limits.

FOREIGN BONDS QUIET.—In the Foreign market French Loans were unchanged. Russians showed quiet steadiness, the course of political events being viewed hopefully. There was a further set-back in Spanish Fours to 87½ on the adverse Madrid exchange. Japanese Bonds were inclined to heaviness on the confused financial situation in Japan. The 4½ p.c.'s were barely 98 and the Fives of 1907 receded to 65. Chinese issues were hesitating, though they are regarded favourably on a long view by insiders.

Changes—Falls: Japan 5 p.c., 1 to 65; Portuguese Threes, 1½ to 32½; Spanish Fours, 2 to 87½.

HOME RAILS LACK SUPPORT.—The Home Railway department was slow and uninteresting. Quite apart from the labour situation, which still overshadows the outlook for earnings to some extent, the latest trade reports are less encouraging, and suggest that for the moment the country has passed the crest of the post-war revival. Passenger Stocks were a checkered appearance. Scotch Stocks were quiet and hesitating.

Changes—Rise: Great Eastern, ½ to 30½. Falls—Brighton "A," ½ to 45½; Caledonian Def., ½ to 8⅞.

CANADIANS AND MEXICANS HEAVY.—Canadian Pacifics held around 146 x.d., dollar securities as a whole being firm, but Grand Trunks were irregular. Mexican Rails were flabby. Argentine Rails drooped at first, but they rallied in the afternoon, and concluded with little net change. Antofagasta issues remained quiet, despite the capital rearrangement scheme.

BUSINESS IN INDUSTRIALS SMALL, BUT TONE CHEERFUL.

SPECULATIVE LEADERS IN DEMAND.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

Several bright interludes served to enliven the Miscellaneous and Industrial market yesterday. It cannot be pretended that business showed much expansion. Transactions broadly reviewed were inclined to centre on the more popular descriptions; but the better feeling, which was evinced at the opening of the week, was accentuated. Moreover, the market developed a definitely cheerful tendency. The speculative leaders came in for some sharp bidding at times, Courtaulds, Dunlops, and Oil Cakes finishing with good recoveries. As regards the last-mentioned, rumours were heard regarding further possible fresh negotiations on the lines recently conducted as between the company and another undertaking. But the general opinion so far as could be judged appeared to be against the idea, the recovery in the price being regarded as due to the generally improved sentiment. In the absence of any reliable foundation for the rumour so far, it would probably be advisable to imitate the market's incredulity.

A further notable recovery was recorded in Courtaulds, which advanced on balance 1/16 to 7 5/16 bid, after claiming a large share of attention during the day. Dunlops were better at 7⅛, and British Oil and Cake recovered 2s. to 46s. 6d. bid. Elsewhere among Miscellaneous descriptions Frederick Sage hardened to 8s. 6d. bid. The shares, which are of the denomination of 10s., were issued a short time back at 10s. 6d., when the underwriters were landed with over 80 p.c. of the stock. During the recent dull period the shares are credited with having gradually changed into stronger hands, and the outlook for holders may, therefore, be regarded as having improved proportionately. Singers were a bright spot among Motors, moving up sharply to 66s. 3d. bid. Rolls-Royce were also wanted, recovering to 35s. bid. There was a good demand for Sunbeams up to 1 9/16, or 1/16 better. Iron and Steels were fairly firm, though paucity of business led to declines in several instances. Pease and Partners were active, enjoying a rise of 2s. to 36s. 6d. Vickers, on the other hand, were easier, finishing lower on balance at 28s. 6d. Brunner Mond gained 6d. at 33s.; Bolckow Vaughan, at 24s. 6d., were not so good. The details of capital re-arrangement are not yet known, though the announcement regarding the acquisition by the company of the Darlington Rolling Mills intimated that a scheme is in hand. Coal Stocks were idle. Nitrates exhibited few changes, business again being on a restricted scale. Liverpool were ¼ down. Other issues managed to retain the previous day's prices. Exceptionally, Tarapacas were cheerful, brightening to 23s., or 1s. to the good. The Wireless group was firm to harder, with Marconis unchanged at 3 5/16, the New ¼ up, and Marines 1/16 better at 2⅛. The Textile collection as a whole tended to decline. For about a week the shares have been practically motionless, and it was a question which way the market would tend when the shares began to change hands again. The tendency has now been shown as adverse to holders. Spinners receded ⅛ to 3 5/16 ex dividend, British Dyestuffs Ordinary shed 6d. to 14s. 6d. The Pref. eased to 15s. 6d. Bleachers, at 2 7/16, were 1/16 worse off. Amalgamated Cottons, at 1 9/16, were unchanged, as also were Cottons and Coats at 2 7/16 and 2⅞ ex dividend, respectively. British Cellulose Pref. were harder at 16s. 3d. Marling and Evans advanced to 20s. Among Stores, Army and Navy, at 40s., were 1/16 lower. Whiteleys were still 27s. 6d. In the Land and Investment section, Sudan Plantation fell back to 3 1/16. Bays improved to 7 1/16, or 1/16 better. Forestals, at 44s., failed to recover, the labour trouble still exercising a subduing effect upon the shares. Shipping securities were idle and neglected, though prices held well together. P. and O. Def. were no worse at 445. Cunards were firm at 30s., and Furness Withys 1⅝. Anglo-European Steamships were a little better at 4s. 6d. Among Insurance securities, Royal Exchange dropped 10 to 360. Gas stocks were firm, with the exception of South Metropolitan 4 p.c., which shed 1 at 58½. Brazilian Traction further reacted to 53, or 1½ down. Calcutta Electric Supply eased ⅛ to 7⅛.

MINES GENERALLY IDLE.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

In the speculative departments of the House a good deal more interest centred upon to-day's Derby than upon the course of values, and, except from the Oil section, these markets suffered from neglect. Mines, though maintaining a firm front, cept for the Oil section, these markets suffered of attention. There was, indeed, little incentive to deal, for the public continued to hold aloof, and professionals were disinclined to increase commitments in view of the probable exodus to-day of a large number of members to Epsom. The price of gold remained stationary at £5 6s. 3d. per ounce, and the French exchange was very little altered at 50.50f. to the pound; but even the better-class shares were mostly allowed to look after themselves, while the rank and file simply vegetated. Among the finance descriptions the only changes were small shrinkages in Johnnies and Gold Trust. In fact, the movements on the day throughout the list numbered but a dozen, and they were insignificant. Rhodesians were relatively better, for certain shares which were prominent on the preceding day were again being bought, and Lonely, Falcon, and Rhodesia Broken Hill all improved, but Gaika eased on profit-taking. Diamonds were left pretty much to themselves, and Jagersfontein lost the turn. The price of tin fell £2 to £272 15s. per ton, and the share market remained as apathetic as ever. The only feature was a sharp set-back in Dolcoath on the possibility of the mine closing down unless Government assistance is forthcoming. Abosso, among West African Gold Shares, were better, and there was a quiet demand for one or two Barriers, part of which was said to emanate from the colony. In the Copper section Rio Tinto came on offer and fell away, but in the Miscellaneous department Burmas were again better, and there was further buying of several Mexicans, Camp Bird, Santa Gertrudis, and Esperanza all improving.

BIG JUMP IN BURMAHS THE FEATURE AMONG OILS.

INCREASED ACTIVITY DISPLAYED BY OTHER LEADING ISSUES.

(FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS OF TO-DAY.)

The outstanding feature of the Oil share market yesterday was the strength and activity of Burmahs, which were in keen request both locally and from the North, the price at one time being £2 above Monday's closing level, and, although they came back, a substantial advance was still shown at the close. The revival of activity in these shares was attributable to optimistic bonus talk. We have already expressed the opinion that the Burmah Oil Company can distribute a bonus this year if they wish, while it is possible that an issue of shares at par may be made which would afford a substantial bonus to present holders. An additional reason for the strength of the shares is that the Bolshevist menace to Persia is regarded less seriously. The report of the company is due very shortly, and on account of the past year an interim dividend of 10 p.c. has been paid. It is confidently anticipated that the 30 p.c. rate will be maintained and possibly increased. Activity was by no means confined to Burmahs, increased animation and strength being displayed by other leading shares and market favourites. There was big buying of Mexican Eagles, which finished appreciably higher, and advances were scored by Shells, Royal Dutch, and Anglo-American. Lively dealings were again witnessed in Scottish-Americans, but following the sharp rise of the preceding day a good deal of profit-taking was encountered, and the price slipped back. Trinidad issues came into prominence, with Centrals the chief feature, while Leaseholds and United British showed increased strength. Kern Rivers, Venezuelan Oil Concessions, and Anglo-Egyptian "B" all improved, and a harder tendency characterised Russian descriptions. Closing prices:—

RUBBER SHARE MARKET GOOD.

The Rubber market left off with a good tendency, and at the end of the session Anglo-Malay were harder at 43s. buyers. Rubber Trust came into demand at 34s., and the new shares were about 1s. less. The price of the material remained about 2s. 1d. per lb.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Bank Rate (changed April 15th) .... 7 p.c.

Conditions were comfortable in the Money market, though the full effects of the big disbursements, aggregating about 57 millions, will not be felt for a day or two. Calls on new capital totalled about 5½ millions. The rate for call money ranged from 5¼ to 5½ p.c. most of the day, but balances were obtainable over the night at 5 p.c., and even less. Weekly and other short fixtures were arranged around 5½ p.c. There was a fairly keen demand for bills in the discount market, though takers were still showing reserve. Short paper was taken at 6½ p.c., two months' drafts at 6⅞ p.c., and three months' at 6⅞ to 6⅞ p.c.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Liverpool bank clearings for the month of May amounted to £67,113,878, as compared with £51,996,391 a year ago, and £38,414,876 two years ago.

With upwards of £50,000,000 being distributed yesterday in the shape of dividend on War Loans, the Stock Exchange naturally wonders how much, if any, will come its way for reinvestment. Some endeavour to persuade themselves that it may mean the turning point in the present stagnation, especially if it is really true that the war wealth levy is to be embalmed. "Hope springs eternal." At the same time there is a suspicion here and there that if the war wealth spectre is laid it may be supplanted by some other physic designed to reduce the excess of floating debt. It is a pity that there should be a lack of confidence. Anyway, fifty millions is a figure to conjure with, and, as things are, it may stimulate the demand for long-dated investments pure and simple without affecting other types of securities.

In its monthly review our biggest bank, the London Joint City and Midland Bank, has something to say on the scant success so far achieved by the Treasury Bond issue. This non-success may be due, the bank considers, "to the fact that, beyond announcements in the Press, no country-wide campaign is being conducted as in the case of previous issues by the Government. The best publicity, however, that could possibly be afforded to the issue would be a drastic reduction in the national expenditure. In the absence of this, and in view of the competition from other loans, the receipt of any large sum from the sale of the Bonds during the summer months is hardly to be expected."

The directors of Harrods Limited have under consideration an early issue of Preference capital, in which case it is proposed that the existing Preference shares shall receive the same rate of dividend as may be decided upon with regard to the new issue. The directors recommend existing Preference shareholders to await further information.

Newnes and Pearson Printing Co., Ltd., has been registered with a nominal capital of £200,000 in £1 shares to take over the assets and liabilities of the London Colour Printing Co., Ltd. (incorporated in 1898), to acquire from George Newnes, Ltd., and C. Arthur Pearson, Ltd., the plant and machinery referred to therein, and to carry on the business of Printers, Lithographers, Electrotypers, Newspaper Proprietors, etc. The first directors include Sir Frank Newnes, Bart., Sir Arthur Pearson, Bart., and Lord Riddell.

The Debenture interest warrants of the Aboyne-Clyde Rubber Estates of Ceylon have been posted.

A controlling interest in the Darlington Rolling Mills has been acquired by Bolckow Vaughan and Co. Ltd. This will entail a re-arrangement of the capital and directorate of the latter company.

(Crops for May, 1919, given in parentheses.)

LONDON WOOL SALES.

Catalogues comprising 11,258 bales of Government wool were brought forward last evening. Good attendance of buyers, but with limit of prices too high a large part of the wool offered was bought in, prices realised for the sold portion showing fully Monday's opening decline.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

INGLIS AND CO., BELFAST.—10 per cent. per annum, and a bonus of 1/- per share (together 2/- per share), £13,000 to reserve, £2,000 employés' Benefit, and £13,659 forward. A year ago the dividend was the same, but no bonus was paid, £2,000 was added to reserve, £2,000 to employés' benefit fund, £1,000 to improvement fund, and £8,400 forward.

LONELY REEF GOLD.—Interim dividend of 23 p.c., less tax.

INDIAN AND GENERAL INVESTMENT TRUST.—Final dividends on the Pref. Stock at the rate of 5 p.c. per annum, and on the Def. Stock at the rate of 12 p.c. per annum, for the half-year to 30th April, making, with the interim dividend paid in December, 1919, 10 p.c. for the year, declared.

MARKET REPORTS.

GRAIN.—DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE, Tuesday.—There is very little to report with regard to corn trade. Foreign grain is still passing into consumption through the medium of control. Practically no Irish wheat or barley coming forward worth speaking of, and oats continue to follow a decidedly dearer trend, but in the present limited actual business, prices show some uncertainty and are difficult to quote accurately to fit buying and selling interests.

I BUY OATS.—A. H. Smith, 10 Burgh quay, Dublin.—(Advt.)

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Tuesday.—WHEAT—Allocations comprised parcels of Plate ex store Plymouth at 96/- per 480lbs. MAIZE dull; cargoes of Plate steamers June-July and July-August, also sellers afloat and loading, all at 80/-; parcels weak; Plate afloat quoted 69/6, May-June 73/6, June-July sold 73/6, July-August quoted 74/- per 480lbs. BARLEY quiet; Californian June-July quoted 108/- to 111/-, August-September 107/-, September-October 105/-, No. 4 Canada Western June-July and July-August 77/6, ditto feed 76/-. OATS quiet; Plate 42lbs. afloat 56/-, May-June 56/3, f.a.q. June-July 56/-, No. 3 Canada Western July-August 63/- per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—C.i.f. parcels of WHEAT were fairly active, sales covering No. 1 red winter afloat at 93/-, No. 3 red garlicky winter 90/6, No. 3 hard winter 82/-, No. 4 hard 91/-, No. 2 mixed winter 93/-, and No. 2 amber durum at 90/6 per quarter. MAIZE—Parcels River Plate afloat were offered by the Commission at 70/- per quarter, but were not accepted, as there were sellers at 69/6 in the open market, while 72/- was taken for June-July shipment, or 9d. per quarter under last night. Wheat on the spot ruled quiet, but steady, at unchanged prices. Maize—Spot parcels remained quiet at about late rates. FLOUR moved but moderately at official prices. BEANS, BARLEY, and OATMEAL showed no material change. PEAS and OATS in some cases were held for more money. MILL OFFALS steady at late rates. LINSEED and COTTON CAKE attracted little attention. Yellow River Plate maize futures remained inactive, but prices were nominally reduced ½d. to 1d. per cental. Closing values:—July delivery 15/3, September 15/6½ per cental.

CATTLE.—BIRMINGHAM, Tuesday.—Supplies were again greatly in excess of demand, and heavy pigs and sows were practically unsaleable. Where bacon pigs and small pigs were disposed of prices were easier, 30/- per score dead weight being accepted.

SALFORD, Tuesday.—Only 14 fat cattle on offer at to-day's market, mostly second grade and third grade beasts. Small entry of sheep and lambs, consisting of 184 Yorkshire clips, 18 South country, and 14 Welsh lambs, quality being good. At Manchester 420 Irish pigs were shown, and quality was good. Trade fair at 21/6 per 14lb. stone dead weight.

PROVISIONS.—DUBLIN POTATO, Tuesday.—For some reason or another northern control dealers have allocated a quantity of potatoes to Dublin traders at a comparatively fair price, when recent tightening position and other piquant circumstances are considered. However, it would appear that cross-Channel consignments are paying sufficiently well to balance the difference in settlements with farmers. The philanthropic disposition in favour of Dubliners at the same time is not without a suspicious reason in the undercurrent of [illegible] complain something in shipping direction, city prices for dates, etc., is 12/- to [illegible] 13/6 to 14/- per cwt.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.—The market for American BACON remains quiet, with importers well supplied with Wiltshires, bellies, and Cumberlands, though buyers show little inclination to operate, as Danish and Irish is considered better value. Some of the recent arrivals of American, offered ex quay, was said to be not strictly fresh, and obtainable at a discount through the Claims Committee. There is a fair demand for Irish and Danish, with the former in only moderate supply, while the latter is arriving in a more liberal scale. HAMS in small compass, and finding buyers alone with a proportion of fresh Cumberlands. Shoulders quiet, but buyers take fresh squares when obtainable. LARD on the spot shows no improvement in the demand, which is slow, while offerings of both prime American refined continue to be made freely. CHEESE moves fairly at 1/5½ per lb. for controlled delivered to retailers, and Cheshire sells round about 1/7 per lb. BUTTER quietly steady for controlled, and a fair inquiry from 2/3 to 2/7 per lb., according to quality. EGGS steady, with Irish hen at 26/5 to 27/-, and duck 28/6 to 29/-, and supplies actually ready somewhat limited.

JAMES J. HALPIN, Wholesale Provision Merchant, 18-19 Thomas street, Dublin, for Irish Bacon, Green and Smoked.—(Advt.)

HALSTON STREET POULTRY, Tuesday.—Market naturally remains more or less disorganised by the strike of employes in leading poultry establishments, but fortunately it is expected matters will be agreeably settled within the next few days. Chickens were more liberally offered to-day, and figured around 2/2 and 2/3 live, and 2/6 per lb. dead. Old fowl still irregular in price. Ducklings are not selling well, and in fact are not inquired for, and prices are low. Rabbits much improved. Friday may see better order of things here.

DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE, Tuesday.—Heavy all round supplies of vegetables on market, and, although buyers gave active supply to sales, values showed a distinct all round easing. Nothing to strongly feature in fruit yet. Strawberries, 6/- to 12/- and 15/- per lb.; gooseberries, 6d. to 1/- per quart; new Irish potatoes, 8d. to 8½d. per lb.; Canary Islands, 36/- to 40/- per box; tomatoes, 28/- and 30/- per 12lb.; rhubarb, 5/- to 7/6 and 14/- per dozen; cucumbers, 6/- to 10/- and 12/- per dozen; cauliflowers, 9/- to 11/- and 11/6 per dozen; seconds, 4/- to 6/-; salad, 1/- to 1/6, and special, 2/- to 2/8 and 2/10 per dozen; scallions, 4d. to 6d. and 1/4 per bundle; white turnips, 2/3 to 2/6 and 2/9 per bundle; radishes, 2d. to 4d. and 9d. per dozen ditto; York cabbage, 30/- to 45/- and 70/- per load, parsley, 6d. to 9d. per tray.

DUBLIN FISH, Tuesday.—There was a fairly good market of fish here this morning, and improved offtake both shipping and country connections, besides local requirements. The principal arrivals embraced—18 packages salmon, 18 chests lobsters, 317 boxes mixed catches from two steamers, and fair country delivery. Salmon again averaged 2/- per lb.; turbots, 2/- to 5/- and 8/-; brill, 1/- to 5/- and 6/-; best soles, 30/- to 35/- per 8 and 9 pairs; mediums, 15/- to 20/-; slips, 8/- to 10/-; plaice, 3/- to 4/- and 5/- per 4 and 8; half-boxes of plaice, 30/- to 40/-; codfish, 30/- to 45/-; hake, 25/- to 50/-; conger eels, 20/- to 30/-; ray, 15/- to 20/-; whitings, 15/- to 25/- and 40/- per half-box; large live lobsters, 20/- to 25/- per 13; seconds, 15/- to 16/-; others, 5/- to 10/- and 12/- per 13.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Tuesday.—Supply fair; demand steady. Salmon, 3/- to 4/3; salmon trout, 1/6 to 3/6; soles, 1/- to 1/4; slips, 1/- to 1/3; red mullet, 1/3 per lb.; turbot and brill, 7/- to 10/-; halibut, 12/- to 14/-; lemon soles, 8/- to 9/-; cod, 2/- to 5/-; whitches, 5/- to 7/-; plaice, 4/- to 5/-; haddocks, 4/- to 7/-; hake, 6/- to 7/-; whiting, 4/- to 6/-; gurnet, 3/- per stone.

MANCHESTER, Tuesday.—BUTTER—There has been a serious slump in Government butter prices, and fresh lots of Irish creameries fell to 4d. under the controlled price. BACON—Good demand for best cuts. Irish bacon steady demand; Danish, large arrivals; American, Cumberland, inquiry limited. HAMS firm owing to scarcity. LARD slow; prices unchanged. CHEESE—Supplies of free cheese are increasing, but trade quiet at 1/3 to 1/6 per lb. EGGS scarce and prices in sellers' favour; Irish, hens' 26/6 to 28/6, ducks' 29/- to 30/- per 120.

BUTTER AND EGGS.—LITTLE GREEN, Tuesday.—The general situation for butter is again easier and supplies are more abundant, but the large percentage of both creams and farmers' produce coming in which contain over-percentage of moisture, is acting as a great detriment and discounting influence on the trade, as shopkeepers are afraid to buy or handle this stuff in face of possible prosecutions and heavy fines. In consequence, leading wholesalers show a disinclination to accept consignments of this sort, or quote for it at all, preferring to return it in toto to consignors. So far as trade is practicable, prices may be reckoned as 2/5 to 2/5½ for leading quality creams, and around 2/6 for strictly choice firm sorts. Other classes of creams are from 2/3 to 2/4½ according to make and character. Factory butter is offering around 2/- to 2/1½ and 2/2 per lb. Saleable farmers' descriptions, anywhere from 1/10 to 2/2; superfine, perhaps, 2/3 per lb. With regard to eggs, there is still a good offtake for shipment through country channels, and this support has a tendency to stiffen the pretensions of provincial dealers. However, at this end a threatened wobble and downward trend in values has been for the moment averted by the reduced supplies coming forward. Prime case eggs from well known districts are around 24/6 to 26/6 per 120, and extra selected 27/- and 28/- in retail quantity. Western eggs rate from 23/6 to 25/-, and seconds and smalls from 22/- to 23/-. Duck eggs running practically par in price with hen eggs at the present time, but the bulk of what is coming to hand has to be repicked, which considerably discounts values to country consignors.

CORK BUTTER, Tuesday.—Firsts, 226/-; fresh butter, 233/- per cwt.

PRODUCE.—LONDON, Tuesday.—SUGAR—There is a fair demand on manufacturing account, and white sorts remain scarce, with buyers at 160/-; crystallised West India quoted 145/- to 150/-. HONEY steady. American Syrup quiet, unaltered. COFFEE—Fair supplies at public sales went off quietly at about late rates; futures slow; July quoted 109/6, September 107/-, December 102/6, March 102/- per cwt. COCOA remains quiet, and no public sales held. TEA—Ceylon in auction met a generally slow demand, and prices in most cases ruled easier; Pekoe sold 9½d. to 1/6½, broken Pekoe 1/1 to 1/8½, orange Pekoe 1/1½ to 1/7½, broken orange 1/4½ to 1/10½, and Pekoe Souchong 10d. to 10½d. per lb. RICE—Market ruled quiet, but bran steady. SPICE—Pepper quietly steady; fair black Singapore spot sellers 7d., Lampong 7½d., Aleppy 7½d., Tellicherry 8½d., white Singapore quoted 1/0½, Muntok 1/0½. Zanzibar Cloves—Spot 1/10½. Pimento 5½d. FLAKE TAPIOCA 2½d. per lb., ditto June-August 23/6; Penang seed pearl fair spot 28/-, June-August 27/-. Sago Flour—June-August 23/6. Farina—Spot 29/6. Desiccated Cocoanut—Medium 77/6 per cwt. JUTE—Market quiet, and without new feature, and prices without material alteration; native first marks assortment actuals June-July steamer London-Dundee quoted £57, ditto substitutes £51 per ton. Calcutta Hessians, also Twills, dull, unaltered. HEMP—Manila steady, but generally quiet; J grade June-August quoted £65 per ton; New Zealand sparingly offered; Italian quiet, but firmly held; Russian nominal. SHELLAC quiet; fair T.N. spot quoted 590/-, August delivery 560/- per cwt. COPRA dull; sundried Straits June-August London sellers £56 10/-, ditto to Continent nominally unaltered; F.M. Straits May-July Marseilles buyers £58, Ceylon June-August sellers £58. PALM KERNELS quiet and easier; June-August sold £35 10/- to £35 5/- per ton. RUBBER—Market firmer, with sellers showing more reserve; plantation standard crepe spot sold 2/0½ to 2/1, June 2/1 to 2/1¼, July-September 2/2½ to 2/2¾, July-December 2/2½ to 2/3½, October-December 2/3½ to 2/4, smoked ribbed sheet spot sold 2/0½ to 2/0¾, fine hard Para spot quoted 2/1½, ball 1/6 per lb. OILS—Linseed easier; spot net naked 97/6, May-August 94/-, September-December 90/-. Rape—Crude spot 96/-, deodorised 106/-. Cotton—Crude Egyptian spot 85/-, Bombay 75/-, deodorised 105/-. Castor quiet; first pressure 89/-, seconds 87/-, pharmaceutical 92/-. Palm—Softs June-July 60/-, Lagos 61/-. Palm Kernels—Crude 85/-, extracted 83/-. Cocoanut—Ceylon spot 95/-, shipment 93/-. Turpentine quiet; American spot 184/-, June-August 174/-, July-December 154/6 per cwt. Others unaltered. OILSEEDS—Linseed dull, and rates weaker; Calcutta May-July quoted £43, Bombay ditto £44, and Plate June-July Hull £40. Rapeseed quiet; Toria June-July Hull quoted £40, brown Cawnpore £36 10/-, real bold Ferozepore £38. Cottonseed steady; Egyptian f.a.q. May-July quoted £21 5/-, Bombay spot Hull new £15, and June-July £15 per ton.

LIVERPOOL AGRICULTURAL PRODUCE, Tuesday.—There was again a poor market for farm produce at to-day's market, and two loads of grass which were on offer failed to realise sellers' limits and remained unsold. Potatoes—Templars, 15/-; cabbages 1/- to 2/-, cauliflowers 12/-, cucumbers 7/- to 9/-, lettuce 2/- to 3/- per dozen; carrots 14/- per cwt.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Tuesday.—Market continues steady.

MISCELLANEOUS.—LIVERPOOL COTTON (Opening), Tuesday.—Market 2 to 4 points better—June, 24.91d.; July, 24.51d.; August, 24.21d.; September, 23.96d.; October, 23.61d.; November, 23.15d.; December, 22.81d.; January, 22.57d.; February, 22.29d.; March, 22.06d.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Tuesday.—American dull. Brazilian quotations reduced 21 points. East Indian unchanged. Egyptian quiet. June, 25.09d.; July, 24.85d.; August, 24.50d.; September, 24.00d.; October, 23.60d.; November, 23.10d. Sales 3,000, imports 17,603 bales. Market firm.

NORWICH UNION FIRE INSURANCE SOCIETY, LIMITED.

CONTINUED PROGRESS.

The annual general meeting of the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society (Ltd.) was held yesterday at the head office, Surrey street, Norwich—Sir Gerald H. Ryan, Bart., in the chair.

The Chairman said he could say without hesitation that there was good reason to regard with feelings of satisfaction the results achieved and the progress made in every department of their business. In the fire branch the premium income has again advanced, and for the first time has exceeded £1,900,000. The actual increase is about £320,000, and this is not the outcome of any spasmodic effort or the empty desire for big figures, but represents a steady growth springing from consistent efforts in past years to improve connections and methods. The higher value of materials and commodities have, of course, helped also, but in this respect it is well to bear in mind that these very conditions will naturally lead in the future to heavier claims for losses and reinstatement. The actual claim-ratio in the year under review was exceptionally low—only 43.22 of the year's premiums—and this was, perhaps, the item in the accounts on which they could congratulate themselves beyond all others. The expenses are quite moderate both in amount and when compared with those of their leading competitors. That they can be maintained at the present ratio of 37.5 per cent. of premium revenue is more than they can hope. It is a commonplace of these times that expenses are going up all along the line, and they cannot expect to be free from the general experience. Moreover, taxes at home and abroad are constantly growing heavier, so this important element in our working will remain a source of anxiety to us. The favourable loss-ratio and moderate expenditure resulted in them showing the handsome underwriting surplus on the fire account of £243,620, which was, he was told, the highest profit the fire business has ever yielded. Thus nothing could be more satisfactory or, indeed, more promising than the working of their fire business in 1919.

The profit and loss account showed, he ventured to think, a very sound position, indeed. But for the amount paid and reserved for income tax and excess profits duty they would have a very large sum available for appropriation in one way or another. But he would point out that they had not only paid the large sum of £160,529 for these several taxes, but, taking advantage of substantial trading profits, had made special provision for a further sum of £221,661 to cover all such taxes that have accrued up to the end of the year 1919. They start the new year without any obligations or liabilities for taxation on profits that have been brought into account. Each year will henceforth bear its own particular charge, and the principles of extreme caution and strict accounting will have been most fully observed.

The Chairman formally moved that the report and accounts be adopted, and, the motion having been seconded by Mr. G. Hustler Tuck, and put to the vote, it was unanimously carried.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman for presiding closed the proceedings.

THE LATE MR. JAMES WATSON.

The interment of the above respected citizen, whose death took place last Saturday after a somewhat protracted illness, took place to Mount Jerome Cemetery yesterday from his residence, New Court, Harold's Cross. The deceased was well known in commercial circles in the city for upwards of half a century, and was highly esteemed as a man of great probity and uprightness, and of a most charitable and kindly disposition. For almost 35 years he was identified with the extensive firm of Messrs. J. G. Mooney and Co., Ltd., Dublin, Belfast, and London, acting as secretary to the firm since its inception as a company, and later also as a member of the Board of Directors. The funeral being of a private nature, only relatives and close personal friends were present, who included—James Victor Watson (son), Fred A. Heney, M.R.C.V.S. (son-in-law), G. R. Mesias (son-in-law), J. H. Mesias (grandson), George Tyson, H. Greville Mooney, G. Kingston Mooney, S. H. Fleming, John Robb, G. G. Williamson, John Edwards, James Stephens, W. F. Wells, Frank Bethell, W. H. Herbert, Albert J. Hillis, Joseph Peters, Raymond Victory, Captain R. Blayney-Irwin, Arthur O'Connor, C.E.; Paul Askin, Stanislaus Quinn, Wm. Carson Heney, John W. Heney, John Reid, James MacLaughlin. The funeral service was conducted by the Revd. Robert K. Hanna, M.A. Messrs. Waller had charge of the arrangements.

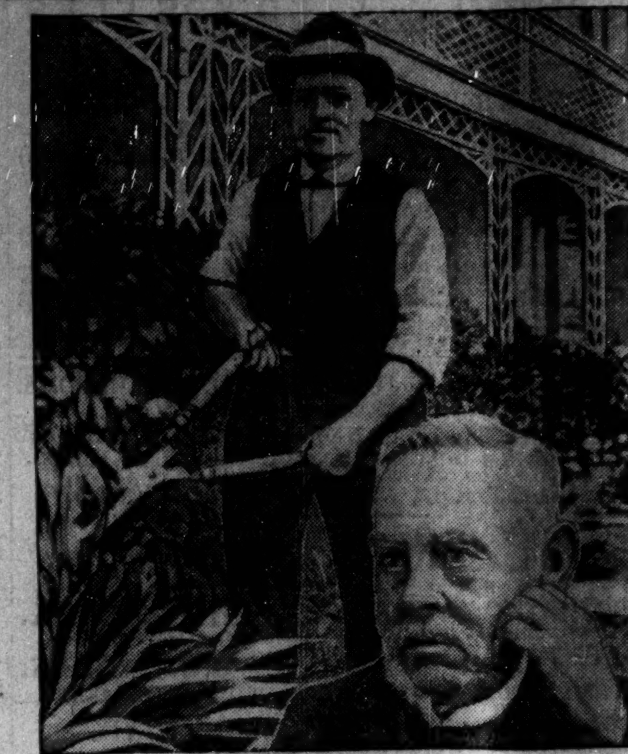

HAY AND STRAW.—SMITHFIELD, Tuesday.—There was a fair supply of hay on market from country and local farmers, but trade throughout proved again of a particularly inanimate and slumpy nature. The bulk of arrivals, too, were of well saved and good descriptions of hay, but altogether in excess of the business practicable, as very few buyers put in an appearance on market. Much uncertainty, consequently, attached to values, which must be quoted lower all round, unless, perhaps, in some fancy transactions effected between 9 and 9.30 a.m. In subsequent proceedings, however, 10/- and occasionally 10/3 and 10/6 may be reckoned extreme quotations for choice shed-loaded first crop hay, and later best strong hay could be purchased from 9/- to 9/6 and 9/9 per cwt., and medium strong qualities, 8/- to 9/-; old meadow classes, according to character, from 4/- to 8/- at close, after opening, perhaps, 6d. to 9d. better for pick of market. Wheaten straw in narrower compass, and made 4/6 to 5/3 and 5/6 per cwt. Oaten in fair supply; best qualities, 4/9 to 5/- and 5/3 per cwt.; other sorts, 4/- to 4/6; a few loads barley straw was taken at 4/- per cwt.

LONDON, Tuesday.—Hay and straw trade remained dull, with liberal supplies available, and values easy. Best hay, clover, and mixtures quoted at £14, while straw ranges from 100/- to 120/- per ton, delivered, according to quality and description.

TRADE REPORT.—MANCHESTER, Tuesday.—Cloth demand for the larger Eastern outlets has few promising features. Finishing cloths, shirtings, and dhooties are under inquiry for India, but bear little promise of developing into business. China is out of touch for the time being, and nearer outlets quiet and featureless. American yarns nominally steady, and slow for both home and export. Egyptians irregular and dragging.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

TIN occupied quiet attention, cash being £2 and forward 10/- easier since Monday's close. Cash quoted £272 10/- to £273, three months £279 10/- to £280, settlement price £273. Sales 300 tons; cash at £270 to £273, three months £277 to £280. COPPER in moderate support, while 25/- dearer on spot, and 5/- easier forward. Cash quoted £96 5/- to £96 10/-, three months £98 10/- to £98 15/-, settlement price £96 5/-. 1,000 tons sold; cash up to £96 5/-, three months £98 5/- to £98 and £98 10/-; electrolytic £105 to £109, best selected £105 to £106; strong sheets £131. LEAD steady, and 400 tons sold; June at £39, August £39 15/-. SPELTER rather firmer, 600 tons sold; June £44 5/-, September £43 15/- to £47, all per ton. TINPLATES unaltered.

George Wheatley writes:—"I was feeling very run down, could not digest my food, and the least exertion tried me very much. I felt that I should not be able to keep on much longer. I was persuaded to try some of your Phosferine, which I did. After taking the second dose I began to feel better, and after three days was able to get about as usual. I cannot speak too highly of Phosferine, as, thanks to it, I am 87 years of age and still able to work."—179, Mayall Road, Brixton.

This 87 years old veteran says the fact that he actually continues to work, continues to remain alert, is due to the remarkable revitalising effect of Phosferine,——Phosferine prevents premature exhaustion of the vital forces, and enables the nerve organisms to produce just exactly the amount of energy his system requires.

When you require the Best Tonic Medicine, see that you get

PHOSFERINE

A PROVEN REMEDY FOR

Influenza	Neuralgia	Lassitude	Nerve Shock
Nervous Debility	Maternity Weakness	Neuritis	Malaria
Indigestion	Premature Decay	Faintness	Rheumatism
Sleeplessness	Mental Exhaustion	Brain Fag	Headache
Exhaustion	Loss of Appetite	Anaemia	Sciatica

Phosferine has a world-wide repute for curing disorders of the nervous system more completely and speedily and at less cost than any other preparation.

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTE. Phosferine is made in liquid and Tablets, the Tablet form being particularly convenient for business men and women, all outdoor workers, travellers, sportsmen, etc. It can be used any time, anywhere, in accurate doses, as no water is required. The 3/- tube is small enough to carry in the pocket and contains 90 doses. Your sailor or soldier will be the better for Phosferine—send him a tube of tablets. Sold by all Chemists, Stores, etc. Bottles, 1/3, 3/- & 5/-. The 3/- size contains nearly four times the 1/3 size.

Yorkshire Relish

The Most Delicious Sauce in the World

Turns Simple Foods into Luxuries

It is surprising what a world of difference a few drops of Yorkshire Relish make to commonplace dishes. Many well-known chefs have discovered this fact and use Yorkshire Relish freely.

Mr. Henry Hammond, Chef de Cuisine, writes:—"Yorkshire Relish is a real essence of what a professional man requires in his culinary tasks. It is full of zest and piquancy, and so efficiently compounded that not only taste is pleased but also digestion assisted."

You will no longer regard as an unpleasant duty the using up of "left over" scraps, if you enlist the aid of Yorkshire Relish—just a few drops will turn your hash, stew, or hot-pot, into a delightfully-flavoured, appetising repast.

Try Yorkshire Relish with any kind of meat, fish or fowl, hot or cold, boiled or roast. It is great with sausage.

Ask your Grocer for a bottle to-day. Bottles, 1/-, 2/- and 4/-.

GOODALL'S JELLY CRYSTALS

Contain the real natural flavour of fresh fruit. Fully sweetened with pure cane sugar. Cannot fail to set, easily soluble. Absolutely pure and wholesome.

Ask your Grocer for a packet. Pint Packets . . . . 9d.

GOODALL'S CUSTARD POWDER

An easily made delicacy, welcomed by all. Equally delightful with fresh, tinned or dried fruit, or as a custard sauce with puddings and pies.

Packets . . . 7½d. and 1/3
Large Tins 1/6

GOODALL'S EGG POWDER

You can get the same effect as if you had used new laid eggs—but at a fraction of the cost—by using Goodall's Egg Powder. The most reliable egg substitute for cakes, pastry, puddings and pies.

Large Packets, 1½d. Tins, 8d. and 1/4.

ANDREW J. KEOGH'S SALES.

ON FRIDAY, 11TH JUNE, 1920, AT 10 LOWER ORMOND QUAY, VERY IMPORTANT FULLY-LICENSED PREMISES,

No. 21 CORK STREET,

CORNER OF ORMOND ST. FRONTAGE ABOUT 21 FEET BY 95 FEET. HELD FOR A PERIOD OF YEARS, EXPIRING IN 1962, SUBJECT TO £60 PER YEAR.

For Instructions of Mrs. A. E. BYRNE, who is retiring from business.

This property was built about 30 years ago, and forms a sound, commodious, well-planned business premises, coupled with an up-to-date, spacious and select residence, and leaves nothing to be desired as to its condition, comfort and completeness.

Although a considerable business has been, and is being, conducted therein, its greater value—viz., its potential wealth, is now discernible.

The great housing scheme on the large tract of land known as "Fairbrothers' Fields," adjoining Ormond street, has been commenced. With its progress and completeness, an immense increase of business must accrue to this prominent property now for sale, being the only licensed house on a direct line between Cork street and this great new residential and industrial colony.

Particulars of the trading can be had from the Auctioneer.

Premises can be viewed between 3 and 6 o'clock, on presenting cards to view, to be had from the Auctioneer. Conditions of Sale from AMBROSE PLUNKETT and CO., Solicitors, 22 Wellington quay.

LATELY OCCUPIED BY THE LORD BISHOP OF DOWN AND CONNOR AND DROMORE,

WILL BE OFFERED FOR SALE BY PUBLIC AUCTION, IN THE CENTRAL HALL, ROSEMARY STREET, BELFAST, ON FRIDAY, THE 4TH JUNE, 1920,

AT ONE O'CLOCK.

POSSESSION CAN BE HAD ON COMPLETION OF PURCHASE.

DESCRIPTIVE PARTICULARS.

THIS IDEAL COUNTRY RESIDENCE IS BEAUTIFULLY SITUATED IN ITS OWN GROUNDS (enclosed by a substantial stone wall), comprising about twelve acres, which are tastefully laid out and planted with matured ornamental trees and shrubs, and there is a good walled-in fruit and vegetable garden.

The situation is in every respect most desirable and convenient, being about six and a half miles from Belfast on the main road to Bangor, and the grounds immediately adjoin Cultra Railway Station, to which there is a private entrance. From the house and grounds there is a charming view of Belfast Lough and the County Antrim coast.

The House, which was built about 40 years ago regardless of cost, is constructed of granite and sand stone, the woodwork consisting chiefly of mahogany oak, and pitch pine.

The premises are in excellent order, and the fittings throughout are of superior quality. There are three entrances to the grounds and a substantial gate lodge at the main entrance, from which there is a good carriage drive. The interior accommodation comprises large lounge hall, with cloakroom adjoining; drawingroom, diningroom, with conservatory adjoining; library, billiard room, and strong room. There is a servants' hall, butler's pantry, and housekeeper's room. The kitchen premises comprise good kitchen, sculleries, larders, storeroom, with every modern convenience, and there is a good wash-house. Upstairs there are seven principal bedrooms, 6 smaller bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, lavatories, housemaid's pantry, and all modern conveniences.

There is good stabling accommodation, large garage, coachman's house, byres, and all necessary out-offices, also a plentiful supply of water, and the Holywood gas is laid on.

The entire property is held for ever, and the purchaser will be entitled to an underlease for 10,000 years at a rent of £160 0s. 0d.

For Title, Conditions of Sale, and Form of Underlease, apply to FRED D. DARLEY, Solicitor to the Representative Church Body, 31 Kildare street, Dublin; or to ROBERT H. ORR and SON, Diocesan Solicitors, 1 Lombard street, Belfast.

For Cards to View. EPHRAIM BROWN and SON, Estate Agents, Donegall street, Belfast; and may generally be expected from those who speak with authority born of experience. Experience teaches many lessons; those who have learnt them are best fitted to advise others. There are many people to-day who know the value of that excellent digestive medicine—Beecham's Pills—from their own experience. They have themselves taken this medicine and proved its worth in the treatment of ailments of the digestive system. They recommend the medicine with enthusiasm; they strongly advise every sufferer from stomach trouble to do what they have done. Good results follow the taking of Beecham's Pills. For all the common digestive disorders such as acidity, biliousness, sick headache, flatulence and constipation, they may be taken with the greatest confidence. They provide a sure and a short way to recovery. Those who desire physical fitness should lose no time in availing themselves of the great corrective and restorative properties possessed by this popular preparation. Ask anybody about Beecham's Pills who is in the habit of using them. Their advice is worth having and is worth following. Every sufferer from digestive troubles should
